2 More Plants Vote

All Packing Workers May Unite In Demands

By The Canadian Press

As deadlock continued in the Ford Motor Company of Canada strike at Windsor, Ont., possibility of a united front among Canadian packinghouse workers in strike-threat demands for a 30 per cent wage increase was strengthened when workers in two more packing plants voted in favor of strike action.

Workers in plants where the strike votes were taken last night —those in Hull, Que., and St. Boniface, Man.—are members of the United Packinghouse Workers of America (CIO).

Already members of that union in Burns and Company plants in Winnipeg, Regina, Prince Albert, Sask., Edmonton and Vancouver, have endorsed strike action failing negotiation of a master agreement granting union demands. The plants have been seized by the Dominion government in an effort to avert a strike.

DISCUSS AGREEMENT

The master agreement will be discussed Oct. 24, when representatives of the three major packing companies and of the UPWA are

Packing Plants' Controller Here For Conference

Shipments of beef and pork products overseas have increased tremendously and now are the greatest in Canada's history, J. G. Taggart, Ottawa, chairman of the Canadian Meat Board, and controller of packing plants, stated on his arrival here to confer with R. M. MacCrimmon, Fort Saskatchewan, deputy controller of the packing plants at Edmonton.

He said that between 700 and 800 cars were rolling across the prairies to seaboard for shipment overseas, and that marketings through the inspected packing plants during the past four or five weeks exceeded the highest day of last year, when 41,000 head of cattle passed through these plants on Nov. 4.

AVERAGE DAILY RUN

The daily run of cattle during recent months has been between 45,000 to 50,000, compared with 30,000 to 35,000 at the same time last year.

Strikes in U.S. At a Glance

By The Canadian Press

Overall picture: About 450,000 workers idle as a result of strikes.

Coal: Thousands of 216,000 strikers returning to pits. All to be back by Monday, under John L. Lewis' order.

Power: Emergency workers are maintaining electrical services to 2,000,000 Michigan consumers while 6,000 power workers strike for wage increases.

New York longshoremen: Back to work orders issued by strike leaders. About half of 35,000 returned to work yesterday. Struck over weight of loading nets.

Movies: Eight months strike continues, affecting from 5,000 to 7,000 workers. Reason: Jurisdictional dispute between two unions.

Southern Miners Returning to Jobs

Small crews of sun-tanned miners turned out for work at Drumheller this morning after a three-week lay-off basking in the sun and open air.

In some cases not enough men came out to start up the mine. It is not expected that full production will get underway until Monday, when full crews will turn out.

Lethbridge and Crow's Nest Pass fields are still idle, but there is a feeling that the Drumheller action will have an effect in other fields and hasten the end of the meat ration "strike."

50 Chinese Troops, Plane Crew Killed

PEIPING, Oct. 19.—(AP)—More than 50 Chinese troops and an American crew were killed Wednesday when a troop carrying plane crashed attempting to land at Nanyuan airfield near here.

Army Overthrows Venezuelan Govt.

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

CARACAS, Venezuela, Oct. 19.—(BUP)—Rebellious army leaders overthrew the Venezuelan government today and seized President Isaias Medina.

The government toppled after a night and day of sporadic fighting during which the rebels seized control of all Caracas and the important military centre of Maraca, 30 miles east of the capital.

Medina surrendered to the leaders of the military junta this afternoon, several hours after the insurrectionists had captured his predecessor, Lopez Contreras.

Led by a group of young army officers, the insurgents captured all the major army garrisons and central police headquarters in Caracas.

The rebels were reported using tanks against government troops at Maracay, where the important air base was said to have changed hands several times before Medina's forces surrendered.

Famous Singer Is No Booster Of Alta. Roads

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

ENDIANG, Alta., Oct. 19.—Lauritz Melchior, famous Wagnerian tenor and movie star, will not be a booster for Alberta highways when he returns to the Klieg lights and the operatic stage.

With Louis K. Sidney, an executive of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios and several members of the Danish Royal Guard of which he is a member, Melchior was one of a party travelling in two cars from Endiang to Calgary. Heavy rains and a snowfall of one and one-half inches following turned the clay roads over which the party was travelling into a quagmire. It took the cars six hours to reach Drumheller, fifty miles from Endiang, and three times the cars went into the ditch. Twice they were pulled out by tractors and once by horses.

The party was en route to Calgary to attend a banquet in the Palliser hotel at which all members of the Danish Royal Guard in Alberta will be in attendance. Following the banquet the party is going to Strathmore to shoot game birds and later to Brooks to hunt antelope. The Hollywood men are here on holiday.

EDMONTON ACCORDS WHOLE-HEARTED WELCOME TO GALLANT 92ND FIELD BATTERY, RCA—The 92nd Field Battery, RCA, came home from the war on Thursday and received a whole-hearted welcome due to heroes who had fought through the Sicilian and Italian campaigns and who had been "in at the finish" in Northwestern Europe. The upper picture shows a family reunited after long separation due to the exigencies of war. Maj. W. R. Gilchrist, who led the battery home and in the parade through city streets is shown in an exclusive Edmonton Bulletin picture in the bosom of his family at the CNR station soon after the train arrived, and all are supremely happy. Some Away for Over Six Years

Soldiers of 92nd Battery Welcomed Home After Lengthy Tour of Service Overseas

Edmonton's 92nd Field Battery, RCA, some 300 strong, marched in triumph through downtown streets Thursday evening to lively band music and skirling bagpipes while proud and grateful thousands roared a welcome-home to the gallant gunners.

Home again amid scenes once so familiar but often dimmed in memory as their gun muzzles belched roaring smoke and flame on a score of hard-won fields of Sicily, Italy and western Europe, the battery marched like a crack British Guards unit along the line of parade.

At their head was Maj. William R. "Bill" Gilchrist, ED, youthful Edmonton officer who had the honor of leading the battery in its "last" parade.

Prior to the grand victory march the gunners were joyously greeted by wives, other members of their families, sweethearts and friends in a half-hour period set aside for reunions at the CNR station.

Delayed three hours by a freight train wreck near Kinsella, the troop special steamed into the CNR depot at 5.30 p.m., just as the setting sun shed a soft, ruddy glow over the scene. It was a crisp, typical Alberta autumn evening with scarcely a whisper of a breeze.

AWAY SIX YEARS

Six years had passed for some of the veteran members of the battery since they had gazed upon the faces of their loved ones—years that were long and often filled with bitterness and longing both for the gallant gunners and the anxious folks back home.

But the bitterness and the longing and the years were swept away in the warm embraces of wives, mothers and eager little

U.S. May Exempt Enlisted Men's Pay From Income Tax

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The senate finance committee voted today to forgive all federal income taxes during the war years on the service pay of all non-commissioned personnel in the United States armed forces.

Veterans below the grade of commissioned officers will not be required to file returns on their service income if congress approves the provision.

Sees No Early End To Tire Rationing

KITCHENER, Ont., Oct. 19. —(CP)—George Sawin, president of the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Co. of Canada, Ltd., said in a statement here yesterday that he held out little hope that civilian tires would be unrationed before 1946. He stated he believed truck tires would be released on an unrationed basis before passenger tires.

Ask Trade Councils To Convene Protest Meetings on Taxes

TORONTO, Oct. 19.—(CP)—Toronto District Trades and Labor Council (CCL) has decided to ask all trade councils to hold meetings in protest against the Federal government's failure to adopt suggestions of the Labor Council on income tax reductions.

The council had proposed removal of income tax from incomes of $1,000 and less for single men, and $2,400 and less for married men.

Attlee Forecasts Free Medical Care

LONDON, Oct. 19.—(Reuters)—Prime Minister Attlee said last night Britain intends to have a medical service in which no patient shall be without the treatment he needs through lack of money. Speaking at a dinner of the Royal College of Physicians, he said: We need, too, a service in which professional men and women will be able to devote themselves to their real calling without financial anxiety and without in any way feeling cramped and over-controlled by regulations."

Serve Indictment On 24 Top Nazis

By EDWARD V. ROBERTS
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

NUERNBERG, Oct. 19.—(BUP)—The trial of Nazism's foremost surviving war criminals will open Nov. 20 in this one-time shrine city of the party which started the Second World War, it was announced officially today.

The tribunal met today and issued the following statement: "The international tribunal has picked Tuesday, Nov. 20, 1945, as the date for beginning the trial in the palace of justice in Nuernberg of the defendants against whom an indictment was lodged in Berlin on Oct. 18."

Walther Funk, former president of the Reichsbank, was the only one of the Nuernberg defendants showing emotion when the indictment was served. He burst into tears. Brought here last month from a Wiesbaden hospital, he pleaded for an opportunity to see his counsel as soon as possible.

Of the Nuernberg group, Hess was the first on whom the indictment was served. Maj. Anthony Neave, special clerk of the tribunal, entered the cell, along with Harold Willey, general secretary of the tribunal. With them were two security officers, Col. Burton C.

Most Alberta Miners Working

With but a few exceptions Alberta miners ended their protest against the imposition of meat rationing when groups of pit workers in the Drumheller, Rosedale, Cambrian, Star and Wayne coal fields returned to work on Friday. The number of men involved in this movement is estimated to be around 2,000.

Workers in the Edmonton mines returned to their work on Monday.

A decision of East Coulee miners to continue the holiday was reversed at a later meeting, when this group decided to follow the other miners back to work on Monday next.

Alleging that they were being unfairly treated at the company's general store in the "closed" field at Nordegg, miners in that district have not yet returned to the pit.

Refusal to allow mine maintenance men to work at repairs in the pits was favored by these miners at a meeting on Thursday, though firemen, pumpmen and barnmen were permitted to remain on the job.

It is anticipated, however, that they will be back at the coal face on Monday of next week.

Named Candidate South Mayoralty

From CP, AP and British UP Dispatches

ALLIED ARMY OF OCCUPATION HEADQUARTERS, TOKYO, Oct. 19.—Opposition to the Shidehara government by the newly-formed left wing parties, leaders of which have just been released from Japanese jails after, in some cases, 18 years imprisonment without trial, is crystallizing.

Today Japanese Communist leaders asked the Socialist party to join in a united front against the government, charging that Premier Shidehara and his cabinet "has not the ability to cope with the present situation."

The move came at a time when the government found itself in a dilemma regarding the orders to dissolve the big commercial trusts which have been the backbone of the Japanese economic and militaristic programs of aggression. So closely interwoven with the domestic and foreign life of Japan are the industrial combines that the government is finding it difficult to carry out General MacArthur's orders.

NO REPLY YET

The Socialists have not yet given the Communists their reply, and further talks between the groups are set for tomorrow. Meanwhile the newly-formed National Federation of Toilers, composed mainly of demobilized soldiers who have formed a workers' organization, has denounced the Communist suggestion at their first mass meeting since the surrender.

The Federation of Toilers is behind the retention of Emperor Hirohito, and the government is finding itself in an uncomfortable situation which may lead to its downfall.

All Tokyo Cafes Banned to Yanks

TOKYO, Oct. 19. — (AP) — All restaurants and drinking places in Tokyo have been placed out of bounds for American service men, Military police authorities, who imposed the ban after they found generally unsatisfactory conditions, said the order would be lifted as proprietors clean up their places to meet sanitary requirements.

Senate Committee Would Cut Taxes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 —(AP)— The Senate finance committee yesterday voted in favor of cutting income taxes $2,085,000,000 a year, removing an estimated 12,000,000 low income persons from the tax rolls. The senators also agreed to repeal the excess profits tax on corporations next Jan. 1, accounting for another slash of $2,555,000,000 in revenue.

On Monopoly Order

Japs Show Opposition To Demands of Allies

From CP, AP and British UP Dispatches

HEADQUARTERS ALLIED ARMY OF OCCUPATION, TOKYO, Oct. 19.—Faced with an order from General Douglas MacArthur, Allied Supreme Commander, to break up all the existing Japanese industrial monopolies, the new Japanese cabinet today showed the first signs of stiffening in their attitude toward the Allied demands.

The big combines are said to have been the backbone of Japan's military program, and to have financed the various acts of aggression for the purpose of afterwards exploiting the army's successes commercially. For years past they have been recognized as the real power behind the throne in Japan.

General MacArthur's demands threw a bombshell into the ranks of the old established industrial to-coons, and a Japanese source today said that while the cabinet had discussed the demands at length, so far they had failed to reach a solution.

HAS WIDE EFFECT

"The issue concerns the very foundation of the Japanese industrial system and has immediate, far-reaching effects on the people's

Debate Is Started

Less Spending, Tax Revisions Demanded as Budget Rapped

OTTAWA, Oct. 19.—(CP)—Government expenditures should be gradually reduced to the point where borrowings will be self-liquidating, J. M. Macdonnell, Progressive Conservative member for Muskoka, Ontario constituency, said today in the Commons as he initiated the budget debate in the role of official opposition financial critic.

Mr. Macdonnell was critical of Finance Minister Ilsley's budget speech on the ground that it did not give a clear picture of what are ordinary and continuing expenditures and what are special outlays which will not continue.

"I say deliberately," he said, "that the budget speech has given the people of Canada no basis on which to form a judgment of their own affairs."

VIEWS ON TRADE

On trade Mr. Macdonnell urged that Canada use its full influence to bring about a restoration of multi-lateral trade rather that a division of the world into trading blocs.

On specific tax matters he urged an immediate start on revision of what he termed the antiquated income tax laws, suggested greater relief should have been given to the income tax payers, proposed that repayment of compulsory savings we made to individuals in excess of requirements and urged that, failing removal of the excess livelihood," the informant said in explaining the government's apparent reluctance to take immediate action.

Even before the cabinet meeting, Foreign Minister Shigeru Yoshida told a press conference he doubted that dissolution of the old "Zaibatsu"—such family industrial trusts as Mitsui, Mitsubishi and Sumitomo—would benefit Japan in the long run.

He contended it was mainly through the efforts of these established monopolies that Japan's trade originally was built up to a point where the nation prospered.

"The old Zaibatsu built up their enterprises in times of peace and they were the first to rejoice in the ending of the war," Yoshida said.

BUILT IN PEACE

Only the new Zaibatsu—"so numerous I can't give their names"—co-operated with the military during the war, he contended.

"As far as the old Zaibatsu of Japan are concerned, their fortunes were made in peace times and they desire peace in order to continue their pursuits."

He argued that some large Japanese industries operated at a great loss" during the war. A number were forced to build ships and aircraft at a loss, he said.

Yoshida, veteran Japanese statesman who once was mentioned pro-minently as a possible successor to resigned Premier Prince Higashi-Kuni, told his first foreign press conference he had no plans for the foreign ministry.

HAVE NO DIPLOMACY

"Japan at the present moment is a defeated nation and has no diplomacy," he said. "Our chief task is to carry out terms of the Potsdam declaration smoothly and rapidly as possible, to demonstrate our good faith through deeds."

Yoshida said he believed the present constitution was democratic, but that "revision is regarded as necessary" because the instrument had been "misused by militarists" and action was necessary "to prevent its possible misuse by other elements in the future."

Yoshida disclaimed knowledge of how long it would take to revise the constitution, but said the cabinet and the emperor's advisers would work together it attain results "as soon as possible."

DEFEND SYSTEM

Elsewhere in Tokyo, 5,000 demonstrators, mostly discharged soldiers defended the emperor system and demanded immediate jobs at a noisy organizational meeting of the "All-Japan Toilers' Federation."

The meeting was believed the first in which former soldiers have played a leading role. Speakers contended amid cheers that negligent wartime politicians and not the soldiers were to blame for the loss of the war.

The new federation adopted a resolution appealing to Mac-Arthur to bar from forthcoming general elections 380 members elected to the House of Representatives in 1942 on recommendation of the Tojo (Pearl Harbor) cabinet.

Allied headquarters, which has been uncovering hidden wealth in gold, silver and precious gems from Japanese chicken coops, barns and thermos jugs, meantime froze the jewelry, precious metals and securities of Japanese nationals being repatriated. As they come back home, headquarters said, civilians may bring with them only 1,000 yen, officers 500 and enlisted men 200.

N.B. Premier Not Planning to Quit

FREDERICTON, Oct. 19.—(CP)—Assurance was given at a Liberal Party caucus yesterday that Premier J. B. McNair has no intention of retiring as head of the New Brunswick government. There was said to be no foundation for rumors that he might accept an appointment to the beach.

children. This, at last, was really home, the end of a long and difficult road.

"Hail, hail, the gang's all here" and "Happy Days are Here Again," were popular selections of the band as the train ground to a halt and the happy soldiers swarmed to the platform.

With the cheers and greetings at the station still fresh, the gunners formed up for their "last" parade as a fighting unit at the depot.

The sharp commands of the officers were heard for what may be the last time by a majority of the troops and off moved the parade from the depot to 104 avenue and west to 101 street.

ROUTE OF PARADE

South along Edmonton's second most important business thoroughfare marched the gallant 92nd, 'neath canvas arches bearing the names of the fierce engagements where they had won glory and honor for Edmonton and Alberta.

Swinging along in perfect step to the lively martial strains from the Mewata Barracks band of MD 13, Calgary, the artillerymen moved south beneath strings of colored lights that gave a Christmas-eve atmosphere to the scene.

Thousands of citizens lined each side of 101 street and at intervals between band marching airs the skirl of pipes from the pipe band of No. 27 Coy, of the Veteran Guard of Canada kept the parade moving in lively fashion.

OTHERS IN MARCH

Falling in behind the unit were other men of the 92nd who had come home previously along with several of The Loyal Edmonton Regiment who had marched in triumph on their homecoming just two weeks previous.

At the intersection of 101 street and 102 avenue, Maj. Gilchrist gave the command of "Eyes right" and the troops moved by a reviewing stand.

Erect at the salute was Brig. F. M. W. Harvey, VC, MC, ED, district officer commanding MD 12, a gallant soldier who won the empire's highest award for bravery on the western front in the First Great War. Brig. Harvey was representing His Honor Lt. Gov. J. C. Bowen.

On the stand with Brig. Harvey, representing the province of Alberta, were Hon. Lucien Maynard, KC, attorney general, and Ald. H. M. Downey, acting on behalf of Mayor John W. Fry, who is under treatment in a city hospital.

Others on the reviewing stand included: Brig. W. S. Ziegler, CBE, DSO, ED, a former commanding officer of the battery; Brig. J. C. Jefferson, CBE, DSO, ED, once commanding officer of The Loyal Edmonton Regiment; Area Commandant Lt.-Col. R. Waller Hall, MC, ED; Lt.-Col. F. Armour Ford, ED, Lt.-Col. Philip Debney, MM, ED, and others.

PARADE ON JASPER

Leaving the saluting base behind the 92nd moved on to Jasper avenue amid mounting enthusiasm of the crowd.

At 101 street and Jasper avenue the parade turned east to receive fresh plaudits along the route to 99 street, where a turn was made north to the market square. "Good old 92nd!" was the popular shout.

There beneath special floodlights the gunners filed in and lined up facing a second reviewing stand. With Lt.-Col. Hale acting as master of ceremonies, military and civic officials were introduced to a large waiting crowd and Major Gilchrist was called to the stand to the accompaniment of deafening cheers.

In the official welcoming the officers and men in the name of the lieutenant governor, Brig. Harvey told the gunners they had always been held in high esteem both by the military officers of MD 13 and the people of Alberta.

"This high opinion has been well borne out by your display against the enemy," he told the troops.

ALWAYS ON JOB

The artillery is not a spectacular arm like the infantry or armored units but the artillery had to be always on the job for the war to be won, he observed.

Rehabilitation would take some effort, he warned the troops, but added he was confident they would show the same determination to become good, useful civilians as they did to become the brave and hardy soldiers they proved themselves to be overseas.

He expressed the thanks of the nation and of the military district for a "magnificent job" over there.

Following Brig. Harvey, Hon. Lucien Maynard observed that the officers and men of the 92nd had waited many years for the present moment of reunion with their loved ones.

JOB AT HOME

He said he was confident the boys would learn that the people back home had also done a good job, although it was a job of a different kind.

"I thank you on behalf of the people of Alberta for your great achievements on the battlefields and I am confident you will find that the people of Alberta will not let you down," Mr. Maynard concluded.

Ald. Downey said that Edmonton is extremely proud of the men of the 92nd and of all the gallant soldiers who have served overseas through the bitter years of war. He said the citizens were happy indeed that so many of the battery are now home again safe and sound.

"I wish you all Godspeed wherever you may go and whatever you may do in civilian life ahead," Mr. Downey said.

Brig. Ziegler recalled he had said goodbye to the 92nd in Holland just after V-J Day.

"While we are all so happy now at the homecoming I think we should do well to remember those

"FATSO" WANTS COUNSEL

The group moved on to Goering's cell. The former Luftwaffe chief listened attentively while Neave read a statement on the purpose of his visit and Goering's right to counsel.

"Of course I want counsel," Goering said. "But it is even more important to have a good interpreter."

After Hess and Goering the indictment was served in order on Col. Gen. Alfred Jodl, Joachim Von Ribbentrop, Marshal Wilhelm Keitel, Hjalmer Leo Constantin Von Neurath, Fritz Sauckel, Franz Von Papen, Admiral Karl Doenitz, Arthur Seyss-Inquart, Hans Frank, Alfred Rosenberg, Hjalmar Schacht, Wilhelm Frick, Albert Speer, Baldur Von Schirach, Julius Streicher, and Ernst Kaltenbrunner.

Ribbentrop, who asked if he had any questions, replied: "I would like to think it over."

Doenitz had prepared a penciled memorandum asking that counsel be obtained for him. He gave it to Neave.

ANTI-SEMITE OBJECTS

Streicher, notorious anti-semite, scanned the list of lawyers submitted to him and apparently noted several Jewish-sounding names.

"Is this someone who is known is anti-Semitic?" he asked. "I could not ask a Jew to defend me. I am afraid I do not know these gentlemen."

He asked if his attorney would have authority to reject a judge who was not impartial. He was told he would have to discuss that with his lawyer.

Jodl asked what category the counsel fell in—criminal or international. He was told that the point would be decided later. Keitel asked permission to communicate with his brother-in-law in Hannover, saying he wanted him for his counsel.

WANTS CELL LIGHTED

Frank asked no questions about the indictment. But he did ask if he could have a light in his cell because "It is getting dark here now at 5 o'clock." Andrus replied that Frank would have to work by daylight since it would be impossible to furnish a light. Light bulbs were removed from the cells to keep any suicide-minded defendant from trying his hand with broken glass.

The four-power Allied military tribunal which will conduct the Nuernberg trials announced that the date of its opening had been set for four weeks and four days from today.

The trial date was set shortly after the Allied war crimes indictment was served on the bulk of the defendants—a who's who of the remainder of the Nazi hierarchy—in the Nuernberg prison.

TO PREPARE DEFENCE

The proceedings cleared the way for the trial save for the grace period given Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering and his cohorts to arrange for their defence against the historic indictment.

Today's service of the indictment here and elsewhere in the American occupation zone completed notification of the 24 defendants save for Martin Bormann, former chancellery chief, whose whereabouts are unknown.

Reichsmarshal Hermann W. Goering and 18 other Nazi leaders were handed the indictment at Nuernberg prison. Grand Admiral Erich Raeder and Propagandist Hans Fritzsche were notified in Berlin yesterday. Gustav Krupp Von Bohlen, head of Krupp, was served in an army hospital, and former who are not so fortunate and who will never return," the Brigadier said.

WAS LUCKY UNIT

He remarked that the 92nd, despite the many hard battles it had fought, was considered a "lucky" unit as to casualties.

Maj. Gilchrist briefly thanked the people for their "magnificent welcome home," saying: "We have all been so anxious to get back and here we are at last at the end of a long, hard drag."

Also on the platform at the market square, and introduced by Col. Hale, were: Mrs. Ziegler, Brig. Jefferson, Lt.-Col. J. W. Dodds, ED, Lt.-Col. Philip M. Debney, MM, ED, Lt.-Col. W. L. Oliver, MC, Lt.-Col. F. Armour Ford, ED, and Lt.-Col. W. G. Stillman, ED, former CO. The Loyal Edmonton Regiment.

Following the brief official welcome at the Market Square the battery marched back to the CNR station where they reclaimed baggage. There the parade was dismissed and the soldiers were driven by relatives or in cars of service club members to any city destination they desired to go.

The 92nd Field Battery was home.

PARADE DIRECTOR

Under the overall direction of Lt.-Col. Hale the parade itself was under the immediate supervision of WO1 RSM. Fred W. Purkis, of the Edmonton Garrison and was a model of smooth functioning throughout.

Chief Const. Reginald Jennings and Staff Insp. Alex. Riddell, of the Edmonton city police department, were present at the homecoming, in official capacity and to welcome home a number of close friends among the troops.

The police traffic squad, under Sgt. A. E. Woodwards, was on duty along the parade route, with three of the motorcycle men keeping a close tab on traffic at busy intersections.

Patrol constables were assigned to posts along the route to keep an eye on motor traffic and pedestrians.

HANDED INTO CELLS

A special clerk of the International tribunal which will try the Nazis, Maj. Anthony Neave, made the rounds of the cells in Nuernberg prison and slipped copies of the bulky indictment through the doors.

Hiroid Willey, general secretary of the tribunal, accompanied Neave and passed out copies of an article in the tribunal charter setting forth the rights of the defendants and listing civilian lawyers known to be alive in Germany.

Article 16 of the charter guarantees the defendants full particulars of the charges against them, the right to give any explanation relevant to the charges either at the trial or preliminary hearings, and that the trial will be conducted in a language the defendant understands.

Raeder and Fritzsche, the first defendants upon whom the indictments were served, were in Russian custody at Berlin. They were expected to be moved to Nuernberg soon.

Krupp is recovering from a paralytic stroke in an army hospital, where he received a copy of the document outlining the Allied case against Nazism, its leaders and subsidiary organizations.

Funk was being questioned by military authorities at an unidentified prison in the American occupation zone preliminary to being brought here.

A tribunal spokesman said the list of German lawyers was prepared "just the defendants merely as an aid in selecting their counsel, and they were not bound to make their choice from it. If any defendant wanted counsel not on the list, an effort will be made to find the specified lawyer.

CHOOSE OWN COUNSEL

The tribunal charter guarantees the defendants the right to choose their own counsel, who can present evidence and cross-examine prosecution witnesses.

The sole defendant still not in Allied hands, Martin Bormann, former chief of the Nazi party chancellery and secretary to Adolf Hitler, will be served by periodic broadcasts over German radio stations and by newspaper advertisements twice weekly until the trial begin.

The tribunal charter provides for trial in absentia if desired but indications were that the prosecution would ask Bormann's name be removed from the list of defendants if he is not apprehended within the next month.

BELIEVED DEAD

A spokesman said the prosecution believed Bormann is dead. He was rumored to have committed suicide with Hitler and Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels in Berlin just before the city fell to the Red Army.

Prosecution of the various sections of the indictments will be divided among the United States, Russia, France and Britain.

The United States will head the prosecution of the war conspiracy count, British will prosecute crimes against peace, war crimes will be prosecuted by the French for the west and the Russians for the east and crimes against humanity will be prosecuted by the Americans for the west and the Russians for the east.

scheduled to meet in Winnipeg with Mr. Justice S. E. Richards as mediator.

Mr. Justice Richards announced yesterday that talks set for Oct. 22 between the union and Burns and Company had been postponed two days and expanded to include Swift Canadian and Canada Packers, Ltd.

Meanwhile, the Trades and Labor Congress (AFL), moved into the complicated packinghouse scene with the announcement in Ottawa that TLC officials were to confer today in Montreal to discuss methods of closing negotiations with several large packing plants in Quebec and in the prairie provinces.

COAL STRIKE ENDS

One Canadian strike is ended and a back-to-work movement was to start this morning. The strike of Drumheller Valley coal miners in protest against rationing reached its end last night and it is expected every striking miner in Western Canada will go back to his job within the next few days.

Approval by the Regional War Labor Board of applications by two Winnipeg central heating plants for permission to increase wages was hailed as ending the possibility of a strike threatened by maintenance workers of both companies. The wages will be available immediately, company officials said.

While the labor situation brightened in some directions, the strike of 10,000 Ford workers at Windsor entered its 38th day.

NEGOTIATIONS FAIL

Labor Minister Mitchell's report on this week's three-day talks between officials of the United Auto Workers of America (CIO) and the Ford Company at a government-sponsored conference in Toronto was greeted by a suggestion that the government take over the big Windsor plant to break the deadlock.

In reply to the suggestion, made by CCF leader, M. J. Coldwell, Mr. Mitchell said:

"I can only say to my honorable friend that he has got the answer, God bless him."

Earlier in the day the policy committee of the UAW after hearing a report of union delegates to the conference, called on the federal government to take over the strikebound plant.

Delay Meeting Advisory Group

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The state department announced today a seven-day postponement of the first meeting of the Allied Advisory Commission on Japan. Russian attendance is in doubt.

The official reason for the postponement was that some of the invited governments would not be able to get their representatives here in time for the scheduled session Oct. 23.

It was obvious, however, that this delay allows additonal time for the efforts now evidently under way by President Truman and presumably other "Big Three" officials to resolve some of the difficulties dividing the Allied powers and assure Russian attendance.

Ten nations are supposed to be on the commission. It has been officially announced that the United States, Britain, China, the Philippines, Australia and Canada will be represented.

Eastern Harvest Workers Returning To Homes Monday

Harvesting being at an end in Alberta for this year, 1,100 harvesters will be returning to their eastern homes on Monday. Formerly the date fixed for their return was at the end of October, but harvest has been completed earlier than expected.

The harvesters came here, mostly from Ontario but some from Quebec, with harvest excursions under the auspices of the Dominion Department of Labor.

May Be Canadians On Nazi Party List

OTTAWA, Oct. 19.—(CP)—Commissioner S. T. Wood of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police said yesterday there was a possibility that the names of some Canadians might be found among those in the Nazi party's "master" personnel file unearthed in Germany by United States military authorities a few days ago. "I don't know definitely of any Canadians named in the list," said Commissioner Wood. "It's just a possibility that's all. If there are any Canadian names, they will be forwarded to us by the Americans."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Agricultural Secretary Anderson said today meat rationing in the United States will be continued in November although point values may be lowered. Many lower grade meats and some choice cuts already have been eliminated from the ration list.

strikes in the packing plant industry. Mr. Taggart said he had nothing to do with the controversy. "My job is to keep the packing plants operating and to clear all livestock offered."

He said that all the major plants on the prairies were involved in the recent order under which he was named controller of packing plants.

He said that the government was on operating plants at different points except where no direct strike threat existed. He said he was here to confer with Mr. McCrimmon, deputy controller at Edmonton.

The deputy controllers, Mr. Taggart stated, must stay on the job and meet any threat to the operation of the packing plants. The powers normally vested in the company directors now rests with the deputy controller, he added.

CONTINUE OPERATIONS

They will carry on while the company managemens and the workers proceed to negotiate with all reasonable speed, Mr. Taggart stated. He added that a meeting of management and executive officers of the unions will meet with Mr. Justice S. E. Richards, who has been appointed to conciliate the dispute, at Winnipeg on Wednesday, Oct. 25.

Mr. Taggart said that the order appointing him controller also prohibits anyone interfering with the operation of the packing plants. This would prevent picketing of the plants while negotiations are underway, he added.

He said the plants were operating smoothly and were doing an excellent job. They are clearing a record volume of livestock at present.

Mr. Taggart will leave Friday night for Saskatoon.

U.S. Army Denies Destroying Dogs Of Returning Men

BOSTON, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The army categorically denied last night that live pet dogs of veterans returning from the European theatre had been tossed overboard, on orders, while crossing the Atlantic on the steamship Hood Victory.

The body of one dog, which had been chloroformed by the ship's medical officer, was thrown into the ocean, the formal statement declared.

On their arrival recently, several members of the United States 26th Tank Battalion, 16th Armored Division had been ordered to throw their pets overboard on orders of an unidentified army officer.

Amendment Rejected

Social Credit Move to Block Acceptance of Charter Fails

By FRANK FLAHERTY

OTTAWA, Oct. 19.—(CP)—An effort to delay Canada's adoption of the United Nations charter failed last night in the Commons when a Social Credit amendment was ruled out of order by Speaker Gaspard Fauteux.

The amendment suggested that a one-month educational campaign be carried on over the Trans-Canada network of the CBC to acquaint the people with the contents of the charter and to allow those in the house who opposed it and those who supported it an opportunity to express their views.

Sponsored by Solon Low, Social Credit leader, the amendment said that the campaign would enable people to study the charter and in the light of their matured judgment to express their will as a guide to the houses of Parliament.

SPEAKER UPHELD

Dr. Fauteux said there was a well-known rule which prevented private members from sponsoring motions calling for the expenditures of public money. Mr. Low appealed the decision but the Speaker was upheld by a vote of 155 to 8.

Continuing the debate at the night sitting were T. L. Church (PC, Toronto Broadview); L. B. Beaudoin (L, Vaudreuil-Soulanges); Donald Fleming (PC, Toronto Eglinton) and Joseph Bradette (L-Cochrane).

Before moving his amendment, Mr. Low expressed opposition to ratification of the charter in its present form.

Denouncing the charter as embodying features which are flagrant violations of the most precious principles of democracy and human justice," he called for Canada to take the lead in questioning the whole basis of the security pact drawn up at the San Francisco conference.

AMENDMENT TEXT

Mr. Low closed his speech by taking action which put his views to the test of a vote in the house. He moved an amendment to the motion to ratify the charter. The amendment declared that before ratifying:

"It is desirable that an educational campaign for a period of one month be conducted throughout Canada by allotting on the Trans-Canada network of the CBC abundant, free and equal time to those in this house who oppose the charter in its present form and those who support it so that the Canadian people may have the fullest possible opportunity to study the proposal and in the light of their matured judgment to express their will as a guide to the houses of parliament."

Mr. Low followed M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader and one of the delegates to the San Francisco conference, who expressed the hope the house would vote unanimously to ratify the charter. He said it left much to be desired but was "the highest common denominator attainable" at San Francisco.

Before the Commons turned to discussion of the charter, Labor Minister Mitchell said he had made a compromise proposal to the Ford Motor Company and the United Automobile Workers (CIO) for settlement of the month-old strike of 10,000 Ford workers at Windsor.

OBJECT TO VETO

Both Mr. Coldwell and Mr. Low found the veto power given the big powers on the security council objectionable. The CCF leader said that provision stemmed from the suspicion which existed before the war and was in evidence at San Francisco as between nations.

"My hope is that our wartime and peacetime associations may make Russia more liberal in her political structure and the western democracies more democratic in their economic activities," said Mr. Coldwell.

Mr. Low said he found no provision in the charter for the preservation of the Christian principle of the sanctity of human personality," no Bill of Rights, no protection against tyranny. The preamble contained noble sentiments but its professions were contradicted in the body of the charter and the facts of the world situation.

The Atlantic Charter had been set aside as a guide and not a pact. Canada had joined Britain in going to war to keep a solemn undertaking to Poland.

PRICE TO POLAND

The price of victory for Poland was to lose a large part of her territory to Soviet Russia, a member of the proposed security council and with the concurrence of the other four permanent members—Britain, United States, China and France. The rest of the country was to be subject to Russian domination.

"Yet," he said, "we were assured the United Nations were not fighting for any territorial gains."

He asked what respect for international law or the rights of small nations was being shown in eastern Europe.

Membership in the organization was open to "peace-loving nations." He asked who was to say when a nation was peace-loving and whether Finland, the Baltic States and Poland had found Russia peace-loving.

HATRED AND DESPAIR

"While the cry of 'peace, peace' goes up from millions of war-stricken victims," he said, "there is no peace. Hatred, despair, suspicion and intrigue are rampant among the ruins of what was once European civilization.

"Totalitarianism is as strongly entrenched as ever, only it is red totalitarianism now instead of the black variety of the Nazi-Fascist axis. And where totalitarianism in any form exists there is a constant threat of violence and aggression. And what makes all these things infinitely worse, commercial imperialism is already on the march."

Mr. Low said he took exception to the set-up of the economic and social council of the United Nations which he said meant "bringing national economies under control of an international organization."

The economic organization was to be backed by an all-powerful security council equipped to suppress any revolt against conditions resulting from the work of international economic planners.

INTERNATIONAL BANKERS

He traced the economic plan to "a group of international bankers predominantly German in origin, stemming from the House of Rothschild in Frankfurt-on-Main." This group, he said, had sought centralization of control with the objective of world domination.

The charter was man-made. It flouted the idea of man's dependence on the Creator, contained no reference to the need "of the hand of Almighty God to direct and guide the nations in their search for peace."

"There will be no peace until the nations of the earth repent and get down on their knees earnestly and humbly acknowledging the need of Divine guidance in all their affairs," declared Mr. Low.

RECOGNIZED NEED

The Social Credit group was not opposed to international co-operation and recognized the need of an organization to prevent aggression. It approached the problem realistically and held peace could not be attained without removal of the main causes of international friction.

These were:—

1. Internal strife such as labor disputes which could be eliminated by ensuring security and freedom for all men.

2. The "insane obsession" that each nation should export as much as possible and import as little as possible which led to the fight for markets.

"We sternly desire to see a charter brought forward which will ensure genuine international co-operation and hold out genuine promise of peace in the world," said Mr. Low.

"We want to see a charter which gives complete and unhampered opportunity for the kind of spontaneous and voluntary, concerted action in the common cause that has been at once the foremost character and the major secret of the endurance of the British Empire through the storms of the centuries."

One of "Belsen Gang"

German Became SS Man In One "Easy" Lesson

LUENEBERG, Germany, Oct. 19.— (AP) — The British court trying the "Belsen gang" had a few moments of mirth in its grim proceedings today when Oscar Schmitz, one of the 45 defendants, told how to become an SS man in one easy lesson.

The tall witness said he was a prisoner at Belsen. When the camp was captured, he said, a group of Russian prisoners made him take off his clothes for a beating because he was a German.

Clad only in drawers and stockings, Schmitz said, he escaped by jumping from the window of his room and reporting to the British guard, who put him in a room with four SS men.

Schmitz said he saw a uniform on the wall and put it on to keep warm.

"From then on, I was an SS," the 29-year-old witness said, explaining the British guards could not understand his plight.

"I tried to get out of the room but when I opened the door, I forgot I had on an SS uniform. The British swore at me and told me to get back in there. The guard couldn't speak German and I couldn't speak English. I have never been questioned until I took the witness stand today."

He swore he spent five years in concentration camps for trying to dodge conscription into the German army.

T. M. Backhouse, the prosecutor, accused Schmitz on cross-examination of being an actual member of the SS and said the reason he was found only in drawers and stockings was that he tried to ditch his uniform.

Second "Mystery" Witness Appears

BURNABY, B.C., Oct. 19.—(CP)—A second "mystery" woman telephoned police here yesterday to offer character evidence in the case of George Reginald Banner, Winnipeg sailor who pleaded guilty last week to an assault and robbery charge. The charge was laid for the Oct. 4 slugging and robbing of Eileen Spackman, woman taxi driver.

Banner was remanded Tuesday until Oct. 23 by Magistrate G. A. Grant. At that time Magistrate Grant appealed for another woman who had telephoned him saying she had information regarding Banner's record, to reveal the information in court.

Yesterday's unidentified woman told police she had lived three houses away from the Banner family in Winnipeg.

Both women have been asked to give the information in court, Magistrate Grant said, because he cannot accept their evidence by telephone.

SC Leader Decries Strikes in Canada

"Crew" of Two Men

Plan to Cross Atlantic With Ten-Foot Barrel

SYDNEY, N.S., Oct. 19.— (CP)—With his "crew" signed on and everything shipshape, 29-year-old Mark Charlton yesterday launched his barrel vessel that he hopes will carry him across the Atlantic in one of the strangest odysseys ever commenced from these shores.

Charlton, former tool maker and recently discharged Canadian Army mechanic from Toronto and Vancouver, plans to set out in his over-size barrel over the week-end, with Peter Olfen, 62-year-old Norwegian sailmaker, as his first mate.

Olfen, who hasn't been back to his native land in 45 years, will work his passage on the vessel—10 feet of barrel with a gleaming red keel and superstructure.

Often said the barrel was perfectly seaworthy—it bobbed lightly in the water after its launching—and added they should have no trouble once they got past the treacherous fogs and currents of the Grand Banks. The mariners plan to spend a night in the barrel before they set sail, just to "get the feel of it."

Charlton's barrel is solid oak and 10 feet long, with staves 1¼ inches thick and eight-inch reinforced bulkheads. He expects it will stand the buffeting of the North Atlantic and that he can make the trip in 40 days, sailing 18 hours a day and making the best use of the westerly winds that now prevail.

The little cabin on top of the barrel will serve as a lookout post and a cockpit from which to handle his sails. When a heavy storm comes up, he and his companion will batten down the hatches and ride it out inside the barrel. He has food enough for three months, a small charcoal stove and a home-made sextant to set his course by.

An anchor and a motorbike complete his equipment. The motorbike is to tour Britain and visit his family. A native of Cambridge, England, he has a mother, a sister and two brothers there.

South Bartenders Will Not Strike

MEDICINE HAT, Oct. 19.—(CP)—K. A. Pugh, chief inspector, Alberta Department of Trade and Industry, and chairman of arbitration committee here to settle a dispute between the Alberta Hotelmen's Association and the local beverage dispenser's union, said yesterday "union members will not go on strike."

After a three-hour meeting between the committee and the union, Mr. Pugh said no definite agreements were made but added that "everything is running smoothly."

Mr. Pugh or F. G. Cope, Calgary district officer, the other member of the arbitration committee, will visit Medicine Hat early next week to complete negotiations.

Lift Restrictions Upon Civil Flying

OTTAWA, Oct. 19.—(CP)—Reconstruction Minister Howe announced yesterday the removal of all wartime restrictions on civil flying over Canada with the rescinding of the Defence Air Regulations, 1942.

Mr. Howe, the minister in charge of air services, said the rescinding of the regulations means that the air over Canada now is free to all commercial and private aviation, although flight over certain military and naval establishments remains prohibited.

Foreign non-commercial civil aircraft now may be flown over Canada or Canadian waters providing they conform with regular peacetime requirements and customs and immigration regulations.

Canadian civil aircraft may be flown within or beyond Canada without hindrance and wartime restrictions which prohibited the carrying of cameras in planes or the taking of aerial photographs have been cancelled. Night flying restrictions also have been lifted.

Why the Secrecy?

One sinister aspect of the code proposed by operators of beauty parlors in Alberta which has already been referred to in these columns is the great secrecy which has surrounded the actions of those proposing the measure, a secrecy which is probably necessary if the objects of the code are to give present beauty parlor operators an iron-clad monopoly under an agreement by which the general public could be charged any prices the members of the proposed guild thought they could collect.

The proposed code would, in effect, revive the guild system, by which a coterie of beauty parlor operators would ensure themselves high prices by limiting competition, and no possibility of future competition, for under the proposed set-up it would be impossible for anyone not acceptable to the guild to open up a beauty parlor in Alberta.

Government officials have stated that meetings of beauty parlor proprietors have been held all over the province for some time, to discuss the proposed regulations. But the fact remains that the general public, the consumers as it were, the people who will be called on to pay the price, have not been consulted. They have heard of the matter for the first time when the news of the proposed guild broke in the newspapers.

The fate of a similar code, submitted to the legislature in 1939 in the form of a private bill from the Hairdressers' Association, is probably the cause of this secrecy. It will be remembered that as the result of public protests this bill was defeated on the floor of the legislature.

The present attempt to accomplish similar measures, through the application of a code, savors of an attempt to put through a bill by order-in-council after it has already been rejected by the legislature.

V

The Big Shots

The Allied War Crimes Commission has given out a list of seven Nazi organizations and two dozen headmen who are to be brought to trial at Nuernberg.

Excepting those who committed suicide, and Der Fuehrer who is supposed to also be dead, the indictment seems to include all the names with which the public are familiar as directors of frightfulness. From Goering and Keitel down, those still living are on the list, including Hess, von Papen, Ribbentrop, Schacht, Doenitz, Raeder and Jodl. Rarely since the days of the persecutors are of course already on trial.

There is no indication that the roster is closed, and any of the big shots who have been overlooked may still be put in line. It includes only those who held positions of authority or wide influence and thus rate as primarily responsible for the orgy of murder, torture and outrage. Their aides, deputies and instruments are left for separate treatment.

This indictment is limited to those who composed the grand council of Nazism, and were the authors and supervisors of the policy of ruthlessness—the full performance of which the atrocities were committed. In it are found the names of the heads of the Hitler army, navy and air forces, his financial advisers, his diplomatic chiefs, his labor boss, and an assortment of propagandamen and gauleiters.

The list thus reflects the completeness of Nazi control over Germans and Germany. These are the men who held a nation of 80 millions in their grip and made it the tool of their vile designs. No such judicial round-up of war-makers has ever been made before.

The accused are given thirty days in which to prepare to answer the charges laid against them. It can therefore never be said that they were railroaded to punishment.

The Time to Redistribute

Mr. Dorion, member for Charlevoix-Saguenay, wants a redistribution bill put through parliament, based—as it would have to be—on the census that was taken in 1941. In ordinary circumstances a redistribution of seats would have been made, based upon that census, before a general election was held.

This was not done for the reason that the distribution of population in Canada in 1941 was not normal. It had been temporarily dis-arranged by war conditions. Many thousands of people had migrated from the prairie provinces to eastern centres and to the Pacific coast to work in war plants. All over Canada there had been a movement from country to town, induced by the chance of employment in war or short-handed civilian industries. A multitude of young men and women were overseas or in training centres far from their homes.

To readjust the membership of the House of Commons according to population in such circumstances would have been both absurd and unjust. It would still be absurd and unjust, for the backward flow of people is only in the early stages. The men and women are only now coming back from overseas. The reverse migration from the industrial centres east and west has hardly started. The movement back from town to country is not likely to get actively under way until spring.

The time to redistribute the seats in parliament will be when these reverse migrations are complete. Redistribution now would rob the prairies of representation. It would also rob rural areas all across Canada of members. But the prairies and the rural areas are the parts of Canada where population will have to increase in the next few years if it is to increase anywhere.

If any change were to be made now, the prairie provinces and country areas generally should be given more members—not fewer—than they had when the war began, because of their prospective increase in population before another census becomes due. Mr. Dorion wouldn't want that.

The finance ministry at Tokyo says it hadn't any idea the army and navy had 251 million dollars worth of precious metals stored away. The army and navy paymasters, it explains, didn't make any reports of their expenditures from 1937 on. Nor of their stealings either, apparently.

Plans tabled in parliament provide for extension and improvement of the Winnipeg airport, at a prospective cost of $6,000,000. As Edmonton people can take something more than casual interest in this because it implies increased air traffic passing through this city. From Minneapolis and Chicago and all U.S. points south and east the direct airline to Alaska passes through Winnipeg and on to Edmonton and Whitehorse. The better the airports along this route the more business will come to all of them.

The executive committee of the United Nations organization decided at London to recommend that the League of Nations be dissolved and its non-political functions taken over by its successor. Russia and Australia wanted to delay the taking-over until the new organization has been fully established. Since it is the non-political functions which are at issue, the time of the transfer may not be greatly important. As a political agent for suppressing aggression and preserving peace, the League has already been displaced, and long ago ceased to operate with any effect.

BRIDGE

In Our Own Hands

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

The world begins at last to see the measure of its destruction, the size of the task before it. This, for all our brave words, we did not truly see in the hard days of the war or in the joyous days of victory. We know better now. On every side, except in a few fortunate countries like Canada, we see the whole fabric of modern civilization, laboriously built these two thousand years, has been rent as never before, and every day reveals new obstacles in the project of putting it together again.

The foreign ministers of the great powers, after long and earnest deliberation, have not even agreed yet on the relatively minor problem of a peace treaty for Italy. The future of Germany is still in doubt, leaving a dark vacuum in the heart of Europe. The Balkans remain, as always, a tinder box of trouble. The whole continent lies prostrate, with winter and starvation a few months off. The Asiatic world is in ferment. In Washington, as Britain strives desperately for aid to avoid a new cycle of economic anarchy, isolationism emerges again with new slogans but the same old fatal doctrine. America, at a new pinnacle of prosperity, is threatened with a suicidal struggle between capital and labor, and the paralysis of industry at the very moment when the need for goods is greatest.

GREATEST CRISIS IN HISTORY

No such crisis has occurred, on such a scale, in human history before, and no such task of recovery has ever confronted the human family. After all the election promises of politicians, after all the easy predictions of a new and better life to come out of the war, we see that the whole task still lies before us, that we have hardly begun to clear away the rubble of these last 25 years.

If it were only a problem of technique. If we could solve it by our ingenious machines, our gadgets and assembly lines, the world could right itself in a few years. But we see now, or should see, that just as the atomic bomb has released an incalculable series of new chemical forces, so the war has touched off an explosion of political forces beyond reckoning and, as yet, far beyond our control. The chemistry of this process, because it emerges from every one of the world's two billion inhabitants, is infinitely more complex than any laboratory experiment and more difficult to control than the force of the atom.

The problem of the world has its military side, its economic side, its scientific side, but basically it is a problem of politics. It is the problem of human beings and their relations to one with another. It will not be solved by scientists or by armies or by economists or even by statesmen, for it exists essentially in the secret minds of human beings. There it will be solved or not solved.

The sovereign question of our time, out of which all others spring, is whether the human being is capable of managing and living the kind of civilization which his technical ingenuity has invented. The answer to that question we do not know yet. On one side we have the spectacle of disagreement among nations and within nations, and every day a new exhibit of failure and frustration. On the other, we see developing, slowly and painfully, but with dauntless hope, the institutions of world co-operation which alone can prevent this brittle society of ours smashing itself like a delicate machine out of control. The struggle between these two forces of construction and destruction is now everywhere joined, and will go on for the rest of our times.

TIME FOR BOLD REFORM

It is a time for bold reform within nations, a time, above all, for a new relationship between nations; but if we imagine that all this will be easy, that we can solve everything by a change of government here and there, a new law or two, or a different ideology, then assuredly we shall solve nothing of importance. For we have reached a point in human history, in this victorious year of 1945, when our problem goes far beyond these things and beyond any of our past experience, when only the wisdom and morality and politics and the sharp decline of hog production in the prairie provinces.

THE WEST GOING OUT OF HOGS

Throughout the present year there has been a large and steady decrease in the shipments of hogs from western farms. This has been due to many causes none of which are: the shortage of labor, declining feed supplies and crop failures in certain areas, higher wheat prices and the possibility of making a satisfactory farm income from the sale of grain, the high hog margin of 1944 that is obtained (all things considered) from the feeding of barley to hogs, and the effect of a high income tax on the additional income derived from livestock. In fact, all these supposed major influences there is no great mystery why hog production is falling and, in all probability, will continue to fall if nothing further is done. In commenting on the present situation Mr. Gardiner told the House of Commons on Sept. 24:

"We have tried to place the earnings from livestock on approximately the same basis as the earnings from grain . . . the relationship as between barley and hogs in western Canada is almost exactly what it ought to be to permit farmers deciding to feed or sell barley, and that is where we have been trying to keep it. This simply means that a farmer in the west must make up his mind what he will have an argument with himself as to whether it pays best to feed his barley or to sell it, and that is exactly the position in which we wanted him.

"We are asking every farmer in this country who has been accustomed to produce hogs, who likes to produce hogs, who has the facilities for producing hogs, and who can produce hogs on the present return to produce them, particularly if he can produce them at a lower return, and still make a profit—to step in and help us to retain that market which we have done so much to build up during the period of war."

This attitude may be all right if we can be sure that hog output will not keep on falling to the point where we lose the value of the British market. There is no assurance on this matter and, in fact, everything points to the contrary. If we fall down now and go back to the irregular supplies of the past our only market will become precarious, to say the least. We will be back again in the uphill struggle we had before the war.

However, from the standpoint of agriculture the prairie provinces there is more to Mr. Gardiner's policy. Mr. Gardiner seems to hold the view that it is desirable to emphasize the maintenance of hog production in the east even if it is at the expense of hog production in the west. He told the House of Commons:

"The reason is that the farmers of eastern Canada, from Lake Huron to the Atlantic, cannot grow sufficient grain with which to feed their livestock. They have to get it from western Canada. If we should create conditions in the west under which all the grain was to be kept there, these livestock men in the east would have to go without their barley and the extent to which they would get out of hog production would reduce production in this country very much more than would be the case if a number of farmers on the western plains decided to sell a certain quantity of barley rather than feed it.

"So that we say our policy has benefited feed grain prices as compared with livestock prices to the extent necessary to make it possible for us, over the whole period of the war, to set an all-time record for the production of livestock and livestock products throughout the Dominion."

From the first place, it has not been shown that the same amount of feed grain used in the east will produce more hogs of the right quality than it would in the west not on the bald prairie to be sure, but in the large areas where mixed farming can be carried on.

More important, however, is the fact that the scales are weighed in favor of the eastern producer through prices, and subsidies of one kind and another. Under a policy begun in 1942 the Government has paid the whole of the cost of freight from the head of the lakes to eastern points on western grown feed grains when used for livestock feeding in the east.

By March 31, 1945, nearly $47 million had been disbursed by the Government in payment of these freights. This policy was, no doubt, sound as part of a broad effort to increase hog production in the country as a whole. However, now that output is falling sharply it must be remembered that this freight subsidy without a compensating adjustment for the western farmer, takes away some of the natural advantage of many areas in the west of feeding the grain where it is grown. It may still be desirable to maintain the freight subsidies but we should be aware of its effects on the hog industry in the west under the present price differentials.

Furthermore, the western barley grower is now being paid a bonus of 20 cents a bushel if he sells his barley on the market. When the barley is shipped east the eastern feeder is able to buy it for a price which does not include this bonus. Therefore, the cost of barley to the eastern producer, is 20 cents a bushel less than it would otherwise be, compared to the cost of barley to the producer in the west. In spite of the benefits of the freight subsidies and the effects of the bonus, the eastern farmer when he takes his hogs to the market normally gets a higher price than the producer in the west. During the month of June 81 dressed hog carcasses averaged $17.27 per cwt. in Toronto and Montreal compared to $17.21 in Winnipeg. Furthermore, in Ontario the provincial government pays premiums of 50 cents to $1 on certain grades which are not available in the west.

BEING HANDICAPPED

It is small wonder that hog production in the prairie provinces is falling more rapidly than in the east.

The hog programme which has been in force in the past is, under present conditions, a very much out of balance. It badly needs reconsideration and readjustment to bring it into efficient production. If Canada is to remain an important exporter of bacon it must be based on the maintenance of adequate hog industry in the prairie provinces. A number of important farmers in the west have demonstrated that they can produce bacon-type hogs as efficiently as anywhere in the world. They should not be penalized in obtaining the benefits of this natural advantage, in a region where there are so few major sources of income no promising possibilities can be allowed to slip away.

Alberta In Harvest Time

Land of the hay-rick and upright sheaf
Land of the billowing waving grain
With here and there the white sage leaf
And cattle, grazing across the plain!

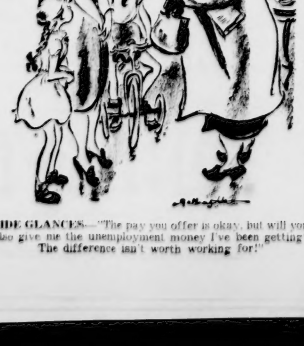

Riches sown with the outspread hand—
Golden riches of varied grain—
Filling up o'er a fruitful land
To feed the millions who else knew pain!

Pain of hunger—pain of death—
Pain that bare gold can ne'er relieve
Without the waving of golden grain
All that sunshine and rain achieve!

So raise a chant to Alberta fair
To sun-filled plains, Saskatchewan laid!
To man's great labor, of God's kind care,
And of wealth and blessing by Harvest-paved!

Deadly Fascination of the Enemy

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

Many things disquietingly confirm the observation that we tend to become what we hate. We hate Nazism, and yet our behaviour is influenced by it and the anti-Nazi word is accepting its premises and methods.

The Nazi peoples' tribunals were excoriated as a travesty of law. Prosecutor, judge and jury were one. They imposed sentences already pronounced in advance. Despite the appearance of legal sanction to lynch law. They judged, not according to specific defined offenses but according to generalities—whether people were, for instance, "anti-social." Offenses were retroactive; men were tried for crimes that were not crimes at the time committed. Persons were adjudged guilty because of association with the guilty, where no malicious intent could be established.

Dorothy Thompson

Nothing more awakened the concern of civilized man than this process of Nazi Germany from all standards of justice.

But now the anti-Nazi world is in danger of adopting these terrible practices. The "peoples' tribunal" spreads over the continent. Laval, for instance, deserved to die, but his trial was a farce, and if French justice dies with him, France will have paid too high a price for one man's life.

The legal sanctions for the forthcoming trial of war criminals are dubious. Leading members of the American Bar Association know it; Mr. Justice Roberts, I understand, refused to touch the trials. Mr. Justice Jackson will try to establish that aggressive war is a crime in international law, which will be difficult when some of the accusers are unwilling to accept for themselves the definitions they would apply to others. The essence of law is that those who uphold it are willing to live under it. I hate to see my own country go in for the concept of the "purge," which has hitherto been confined to totalitarian states.

The conscience of the world was outraged over the incarceration of people in concentration camps without charges preferred against them. But in Italy, when I was there in May, many persons were still imprisoned who had been arrested when Mussolini fell. No charges had ever been preferred, nor had they ever been interrogated. How many thousands of Jugoslavs are in durance, without indictment, is unknown, but their camps exist under terrible conditions is established.

Mass deportations and enforced labor were slavery when practised by Nazis. But they go on; only the nationality of the victims changes—and now it is "democracy." Wonderful hocus pocus!

To Nazism—as to Bolshevism before it—must be credited the concept of "collective guilt," that depersonalization which is, perhaps, the greatest modern evil, making men guilty of their very blood, guilty that they were born "bourgeoisie," or "Jewish." But a large number of anti-Nazis have now accepted the theory as it applies to Germans.

And in Berlin, the "democratic" government has re-begun the book-banning business, and announces an index of books that may not be published or kept in libraries. It will be headed by Mein Kampf, and includes some 2,200 authors, many of whom lived before Hitler. Three are Oswald Spengler, the German philosopher, Sven Anders Hedin, the Swedish explorer, and Knut Hamsun, the Nobel prize-winning Norwegian—the two latter because they were friendly to Nazism.

If Mein Kampf is banned in Germany, why not in the United States? Shall we pretend it was never written? Shall we thus tell the Germans we are afraid of Hitler's spiritual autobiography? Though millions had to buy it, it is probable few Germans read it, for it is monstrously turgid and boring. They ought to read it, though, to see in retrospect how false its predictions and fallacious its logic. The Nazis tried to suppress the French edition deciding it was no aid to Nazism.

Freedom of thought has always demanded that works of thought, or art, be judged, solely according to their own merit. The scientific value of the works of Sven Anders Hedin cannot be undermined by anything but scientific tests. Knut Hamsun, a senile old man, was friendly to the Nazis, but "Growth of the Soil" is nevertheless one of the greatest novels of our times. The Norwegians might hang Hamsun as a traitor, but to bang his non-political works is to accept Nazi ideas. Oswald Spengler welcomed Nazism and then denounce it. But the value of "The Decline of the West" must be judged in the work itself. It seems to me we are well on the way to justify its main thesis.

Stolen fruits are sweetest. The first stirrings against Nazism in Germany came in the universities where students devoted attention to black-marketing exactly those books Hitler disliked, and so protested against suppression of freedom of thought. When some German youth bootlegs "Growth of the Soil" on the black market, this great story of love, toil, and creation is "Nazi," is he likely to be made anti-Nazi by the revelation?

Our deeds make our words hollow, and our "principles" mendacious. We are in the greatest moral and intellectual crisis of western civilization; it is deepening, and seldom have liberals been less free, effectively to defend what needs defending and to check what needs checking.

The West's Big Job

By J. J. DEUTSCH

During the recent debate on meat rationing in the Federal Parliament the Minister of Agriculture made some interesting statements on the Canadian hog situation. His remarks shed some light on the relation between Government policy and the sharp decline of hog production in the prairie provinces.

THE WEST GOING OUT OF HOGS

Throughout the present year there has been a large and steady decrease in the shipments of hogs from western farms. Stood the Test

Editor, Bulletin: I cannot understand the attitude taken by the world with the Palestine problem. There are large numbers of Jews all over Europe that have nowhere to go now that their homes have been destroyed and their own countries are trying to keep them away. The only place they can turn to is Palestine, but the Arabs won't have this. I do not see how the Arabs dare utter one word of protest or how any one of us take heed of it.

In 1942 when Rommel was near Alexandria these same Arabs did not turn a finger to help the British. At the same time, the Jews in Palestine were flocking to enlist their plants were turning out goods for our soldiers, and they performed some of the bravest deeds of the African campaign. Now, after having no hand in during the first part of the war, the Arabs have the nerve to tell the world what they will or will not permit. This is just not common sense.

Pension Plans

Editor, Bulletin: Recently in the House of Commons the question of a lower age for receiving old age pensions and a higher pension for adequate security was discussed.

The leaders of three or four major political parties seemed to differ widely in respect to age requirement and the amount of pension for adequate security, and seemed to discuss this question in a spirit of political controversy rather than from a desire to bring about some measure of immediate relief. If legislators of all parties can agree for the time being on some common denominator. The present age requirement does certainly appear somewhat absurd.

If I remember rightly, the Liberal party is still honor-bound to fulfil a promise to reduce the age requirement to at least 65 years. This age is definitely the time when a great many men and women find a radical weakening in their power to maintain a strenuous struggle for existence.

A still lower age-requirement and a much more generous allowance is proposed by one or more of the lesser political parties. This of course is splendid as a future prospect, but in the meantime half a loaf is better than none.

What Is Democracy?

Editor, Bulletin: Is there a word in the English language that has been used oftener than the word "democracy" during the past six years of war? The blood of our country have fought and died to preserve it, but how many know the real meaning of it?

I think the immortal Lincoln left to us the truth of it in all its significance, i.e. distinction of race, religion, birth or color should be abolished when they are used to give the Creator's beneficences to one class and withhold them from another. There should be no recognition of aristocracy or slavery! How much progress have we made?

Red Deer Told 9th Victory Loan Result Has Peace Significance

RED DEER—Hon. J. L. Ilsley, minister of finance and acting prime minister of Canada, speaking on Canada's 9th Victory loan here Wednesday at a banquet meeting of victory loan workers of Red Deer and the central Alberta units, stressed that the results achieved in this loan would be of the greatest significance to national peacetime objectives.

"The results of this loan will show how far we, as individuals, are prepared to shoulder the responsibilities all of us must bear to win the peace, and will measure the strength of our desire, as a nation, to march forward with firm steps towards our peacetime goal of making Canada the best country in the world in which to live and work and raise a family," Mr. Ilsley said.

The danger of inflation could be best offset by prudent spending and systematic saving, he continued.

"Postponement of spending until there is a better balance between money to spend and things to buy is an essential part of the stabilization program," he declared.

Fred Turnbull, chairman of the Red Deer National War Finance committee, presided and there were about 100 present. Mayor H. W. Halladay welcomed the speaker and guests. F. E. Osborne, chairman, and Harold Tanner, vice-chairman of the provincial National War Finance Committee, also spoke.

Entwistle Man Gets 11 "Spuds" On One Growth

ENTWISTLE — City residents have nothing on residents of the Edmonton district when it comes to growing freak potatoes, as Angus MacLean, well known farmer, can prove.

Mr. MacLean harvested a large Netted Gem this week that makes the current crop of weird spuds look more like the normal variety. And to back up his claim, the potato was mailed to The Edmonton Bulletin.

The main body of the potato is eight inches long and about half that much in diameter, sprouting from this mama potato are no less than 11 "baby" spuds, all in good, healthy, eatable condition.

Wagnerian Tenor Pleased With Results of Endiang Goose Hunt

ENDIANG.—In addition to his talent in winning the hearts of North American opera lovers, Lauritz Melchior, Wagnerian tenor of the Metropolitan Opera Association has a talent for winning the bags of geese that have made Endiang a favorite spot for hunters throughout the continent.

Mr. Melchior, after a morning's shoot at the Sullivan Lake pits prepared by his guides, Jim Kenny and A. Biehike, expressed himself as well pleased with the results.

He was not so well pleased with the Alberta liquor situation. He had not eaten since before leaving Vancouver at 2:45 Tuesday afternoon and he was hungry. In this case that means something for Mr. Melchior is an authority on the art of eating. But he contended himself with cold chicken and a salad and the interview came between bites.

The renowned tenor was accompanied here by Louis K. Sidney, an executive of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer film studios in Hollywood. Others in the party included two members of the Danish Royal Guard, and Thom Kjar, Alberta game inspector.

SILLIEST IN WORLD

When he found he could not buy any beer with his meal he said: "I think your liquor laws are the silliest in the world. I can't understand why I can't have a bottle of beer when I'm eating.

"If you want to get intoxicated you should not have food," he de-

The party arrived here Wednesday morning and after a curried lunch proceeded to look the district over.

Wednesday night Mr. Melchior said he was "extremely tired" after missing sleep for the previous two nights. The noted tenor arrived here a day late.

Bound for Britain

More Ex-Prisoners Pass Through City

The largest group yet of the Loyal North Lancashire Regiment officers and men to go through Edmonton were greeted at the CNR station last night by a reception committee made up of members of the 1st and 2nd Battalions, The Loyal Edmonton Regiment and members of the 49th Association.

HAROLD E. TANNER

The Lancashire men, whose unit is the English affiliate with the local infantry unit, were the only ones in the British Empire to bear the title "loyal", until the privilege was granted to the Alberta formation by royal proclamation in 1943.

The special train trip was a part of the journey for the British troops from their Japanese prison camps to their homes in the Old Country. Carried as passengers were members of every branch of the British services, army, air force, navy and merchant marine. On the second train which arrived here at about 11:30 Thursday night was a hospital car carrying wounded, and ill Canadians from Jap prison camps to military hospitals nearer their homes in eastern and central Canada.

BAND PLAYS MARCH

At the behest of The Loyal Edmonton Regiment's group of officers, and to pay tribute to their British comrades, the band of the 13 District Depot, Calgary, played the march-past of the Loyal North Lancashire Regiment, "The Lincolnshire Poacher", as the trainloads of men crowded off for coffee and doughnuts distributed by Edmonton's vigilant welcome home groups.

All ranks of the visiting British affiliate seemed to have more knowledge of the history of the Edmonton Regiment than had some of the men from the regiment itself.

Lt. Col. G. D. K. Kinnaird, ED, officer commanding the reserve unit here of the Loyal Edmontons had with him a number of collar badges bearing the representative windmills of Flanders, where the regiment won its first battle honors, and the wolf's or coyote's head in the centre.

In return the members of the Loyals were able to explain their own badge, centred by the Red Rose of Lancaster and surmounted by the crowned lion of the British Empire, standing on the crown of England.

SCROLL OF HONOR

The scroll at the bottom of the Loyals' badge is called the "Scroll of Honor," and bears the name of the unit.

Among the veterans on the train were men who had not seen their homes in England for 11 years. Their regiment, a British permanent force had been in the Far East, and was about ready for a scheduled return to the old land when the war with the Japanese broke out.

The Loyal Lancashire was among the British formations captured when Singapore fell and most of them, after a few months imprisonment in Java, were shipped by their captors to a camp at Mukden in Manchuria.

The men were all enthusiastic about their reception in this country, and many of them had made up their minds that as soon as possible they were coming back to Canada to live. Although they had been disappointed when their vessel was re-routed from San Francisco to Victoria, they claimed that now they didn't care whether they ever saw any of the glamorous California coast towns, so cordial had been there reception in Victoria.

INTERESTING SIDELIGHT

An interesting sidelight on the reaction of the men to Canada was the fact that in a five-day stay in Victoria 16 of one group married Canadian girls o n Vancouver Island.

Those whose retirement from the British Army was due soon, said that when it was obtained and they started to get their pensions, they were coming out to Canada to live on the rest of their days.

Among the local military men on hand to meet the train were Brig. J. C. Jefferson, CBE, DSO, and Col. W. G. Silliman, ED, Maj. E. W. Day, ED, Maj. C. W. Lilley and Capt. W. J. Angus.

Among the former prisoners of war on the train were: Pte. Elmer McKnight, Winnipeg; Pte. R. V. Bennett, Saskatchewan; L.-Cpl. H. Rose, Royal Artillery; PO. D. G. Grant, Royal Navy from Scotland; CPO. W. Drinkwater, also of Scotland; Gnr. J. Peters, Royal Artillery; Chief Engineer T. L. Taylor, Sunderland, Eng.; Lt.-Cmdr. J. C. Baldero, Royal Navy; and Gnr. D. F. Tiffany of Glasgow.

HAPPINESS REIGNS SUPREME AS 92ND FIELD BATTERY, RCA, RETURNS HOME—A welcome worthy of its glorious exploits in Sicily, Italy and Northwestern Europe was given Edmonton's own 92nd Field Battery, RCA, when it returned Thursday after nearly six years of overseas service. Many families were reunited and many relatives and friends met for the first time in several years. In the above layout are shown scenes typical of the many enacted soon after the train came to a halt. At the top left happiness without bounds is shown. Tears of joy came to the eyes of Mrs. Stapleton, 9939 107 street, as she welcomed her husband, Gnr. A. L. Stapleton. At the top right Petite Cherrie Giggs and her mother are shown welcoming "Daddy", Gnr. S. Giggs, Chauvin. Cherrie hardly knew her Dad as he had been away for three years and she is just a young girl. In the middle panel at the left is shown Gnr. F. Larue, of St. Paul, who was overseas four years and wounded once, with his wife and father, J. Larue. In the picture on the right is Gnr. S. A. Smith with his happy wife and son, who are reunited after more than three years which he spent overseas. In the bottom panel, left, is Pte. C. Hart, 12311 90 street, who served with the First Canadian Division throughout the European campaign, being welcomed by his wife. "This is my man," she cried as she greeted him. In the lower right is Gnr. Alex Emsky, 13209 73 street, embracing his 10-year-old daughter, Berniece.

Greater Efforts To Boost Poppy Sales Planned

Having assisted more than 1,000 veterans and their dependents during the last year, greater efforts will be made this year to increase the Poppy Fund for needy war veterans of Edmonton.

(At a recent meeting, President Harold E. Tanner of Edmonton Branch No. 24 of the Canadian Legion, was named chairman of the committee in charge of this year's poppy fund drive. Secretary-Manager W. J. Williams, M.A., is secretary of the committee.

ON NOVEMBER THIRD

Poppy Day this year has been set for Saturday, Nov. 3, when volunteer laggers from all war auxiliaries and city service clubs will sell poppies on city streets.

The Legion is officially sponsoring the campaign.

In addition to the street sale of poppies there will be poppies and wreaths on sale at the Legion branches here and in city schools.

Poppies and wreaths are made by disabled veterans who contrive to make a living through this work.

The poppy fund administration is under the control of a board of trustees of which Ald. M. M. Dowsley is chairman.

NEED IS GREATER

Legion officials point out that with the end of the war and the return of thousands of servicemen the need for the poppy fund will be the greatest in history.

Co-operation of businessmen and all citizens is urgently requested.

North Alberta Completes Plan For Ninth Loan

Organization was complete in all northern Alberta units down to the last detail as canvassers awaited zero hour in the Ninth Victory Loan, it was reported Friday at loan headquarters here. Monday morning thousands of workers will begin a canvass of northern Alberta which is designed to get every resident to purchase to the limit of their capacity in the greatest Victory Loan yet staged in Canada.

Edmonton's quota in the loan is set at $7,750,000, and many units on the Edson coal branch have increased their objectives by more than 50 per cent. Alberta is being asked to subscribe $42,262,000 of the $1,500,000,000 minimum quota set for the Dominion.

Officials stated Friday that they were confident that Albertans would exceed their quotas by substantial margins climaxing the wonderful achievements of previous loans by running up a record-breaking subscription in the "Sign Your Name to Victory" ninth loan.

Meeting of Legion To Study Problem Of Tubercular Vets

Matters of considerable importance, featuring recent communications between Ottawa and the branch here on hospitalization of tubercular veterans, will be discussed at the regular monthly meeting of Branch 24 of the Canadian Legion, BESL, in the Memorial hall Sunday afternoon, starting at 2:30.

Another feature will be initiation of a large number of members.

The branch membership is now around the 2,700 mark, making the Edmonton branch possibly the largest numerically in all of Canada.

In The Netherlands, education is obligatory from ages six to 15. Instruction is free in both Public and International schools, and teachers' salaries are paid by the state.

Railway Organizes For Loan Campaign

CNR officials and employees held organization meetings in the Macdonald hotel Friday in preparation for the 9th Victory Loan campaign. The quota for the Alberta division of the CNR has been set at $780,000. Hon. J. L. Ilsley, minister of finance, addressed a gathering of more than 200 employees of the railway Friday afternoon and explained the need for putting over the new loan.

During the morning 50 officers and key men from various points of the division gathered in the hotel to discuss the campaign.

The meetings were addressed by S. F. Dingle, general superintendent of the Alberta division; Regional Treasurer P. S. Chalmers, Winnipeg, and Paul Carpenter, railway liaison officer for the National War Finance Committee.

On Monday afternoon the company will run a Victory Loan special train carrying employees from the downtown offices to Calder yards for a mass meeting with workers there.

There are about 5,000 employees in the division to meet the $780,000 quota.

Rural Teachers Plan Convention

Teachers of the Edmonton rural school district, comprised of Clover Bar, Lac St. Anne, Pembina, Smoky Lake, Stony Plain and Sturgeon school divisions, plan to hold a teachers' convention on Oct. 25 and 26.

Two outstanding educationalists, Dr. H. B. King and Miss E. M. Coppinger will address the meeting on the first day of the convention. Dr. King is chief inspector for schools and director of research for B.C., and Miss Coppinger is vice-president of Saskatchewan Teachers' Federation.

Representatives from the ATA and the department of education will also deliver addresses.

The second day will be devoted to addresses by superintendents, meetings of locals, and professional matters of teaching. A special feature will be a demonstration of the use of films by the Audio-Visual Aids branch of the department of education.

The president of the convention committee is J. C. Dubeta of Radway; vice-president, A. R. Patrick of Westlock, and secretary-treasurer, J. K. Sherbanuk, Edmonton.

Escapes Home Front "Wound"

Brigadier Almost Casualty

Brig. W. S. Ziegler, CBE, DSO, ED, former commanding officer of the 92nd Field Battery, RCA, served for six years overseas without so much as a scratch, resulting through enemy action.

Thursday afternoon as he was on hand to greet the Battery's return to Edmonton, he came closer to getting a wound stripe than at any time in his distinguished military career. After some hesitancy, he was persuaded to pose for a newspaper photographer. All went well until the photographer pulled the trigger on the camera.

Then, for an unaccountable and probably highly technical reason, the bulb in the camera exploded, with a noise "like a .38 going off," according to one khaki-clad bystander.

Small pieces of glass went in every direction. The harassed photographer was assured by the brigadier that he hadn't been hurt in any way by the "detonation."

"Came close, though," the red-tabbed officer commented.

Don Cossacks Sing to Capacity Audience at Sixth Concert Here

Serge Jaroff led his Don Cossack Chorus to another triumph at the Empire theatre on Thursday night, when an overflow audience showed in unmistakable fashion that this is one of the most popular attractions ever to appear here. Staged as an added event in the Celebrity Series of Concerts, sponsored by the Women's Musical Club the chorus won added laurels.

It seems that it is only necessary to mention that the Cossacks are to sing to insure a capacity audience. This was the sixth occasion on which the melodious horsemen from the Don River valley had appeared here—five times at the Empire and once at McDougall United Church. The attendance Thursday was the largest yet, with many seated on the stage, in the orchestra pit, and standing in the aisles.

MORE DANCING

There was more dancing than on any previous visit and this drew round after round of thunderous, including voluble applause. The three male dancers are top flight exponents of Russian steps and their whirling evolutions proved a highlight even on a program of such superlative singing as one hears from the chorus.

The singing was all that it has been with the Cossacks. There was the rigid discipline instilled in the singers by the small but mighty conductor. There was the deep, rich bass singing and the falsetto in the higher voices. The lighter numbers featured characterization and whistling, and in the case of the popular Meadowland, or Cavalry of the Steppes, imitation of a horse's hoofs. At all times the performance reached the heights expected of this splendid musical organization. Several encores were given.

The program included Credo, Gretchaninoff; First Psalm of David, Kievo-Pecherasky Monastery; In Church, Tchaikovsky; Cherubim Hymn, arranged by Kastalsky; Recollections of Tchaikovsky, arranged by Shvedoff; Who Knows? Zakharoff-Shvedoff; Christmas Song, Gogotsky; Camp on the Volga, Drodowen; Lezginka, arranged by Shvedoff; Partisan Song, Zakharoff; Kama Song, Gogotsky; The Blue Flute, folk song; Parting, arranged Shvedoff; Cossack Song of 1812, arranged by Jaroff. —J.O.

Former Resident Dies in Scotland

Robert McMillan, formerly a resident of Edmonton and well known here as an employee of McGavin's Ltd., died suddenly in Ayrshire, Scotland, on Oct. 16. He lived in Edmonton for a number of years and returned to his homeland nine years ago. His wife and a son, George, predeceased him last December. Surviving are one son, Thomas (Bud), his mother and sister, all in Ayrshire, and one brother and sister in Flint, Mich.

Church Parade

Members of Edmonton's Royal Canadian Sea Cadets Corps will attend church parade on Sunday next at McDougall church. Members of HMCS Warrior are parading to commemorate Trafalgar Day, being celebrated in all Cadet corps throughout Canada on Sunday.

Plan Registration For So-Ed Series

Registration for the So-Ed new fall series opens at the YMCA Saturday from 2 to 6 p.m., and continues on the following Monday and Tuesday, from 7 to 8 p.m. Preference in the various courses will be given to early registrants.

The series opens Friday, Oct. 26, with a gala Hallowe'en dance, and a cordial invitation is extended to members of So-Ed and their friends.

The regular program, including lectures and recreation, commences Nov. 2. Under the heading of "Something to Think About", Dean A. M. Trendell, will discuss "An Adequate Philosophy of Life"; Leonard Bercuson, MA, "Dynamic Communities", Dean R. D. Sinclair, Ph.D., "Food and Freedom"; Capt. Harper Prowse, M.A. "The Road Ahead", and Father Leo Green, "Music of Ireland".

In "Through the Lens" C. N. Godwin, X-ray technician will instruct in the developing, printing and enlarging of films.

The course on "crafts" directed by Miss Ethel Field, Mrs. P. A. Rooney and Phil Fawcett, will include instruction in line cutting, woodburning and cord belting.

Local Kiwanians Named to Attend Chicago Meeting

The Kiwanis International Council which is holding its annual meeting in Chicago Oct. 29 to Nov. 1, will be represented from Edmonton by, E. F. McGarvey, acting district secretary-treasurer, W. G. Strachan, governor-elect of the Kiwanis clubs of western Canada and D. E. Mould, western Canada chairman of rehabilitation for Kiwanis clubs and a member of the clubs international council on public affairs of Canada.

Prior to the council meeting, Mr. Mould will attend a meeting of rehabilitation and public affairs. Mr. McGarvey and Mr. Strachan expect to leave here Oct. 26.

Death Sentence For Sixteen Spies

LONDON, Oct. 19.—Reuters—Sixteen spies were convicted and sentenced to death under the Treachery Act in British courts during the war, Home Secretary James Chuterede stated in a written parliamentary reply yesterday. He added that four of them were Britons.

Good Government Is Urged For City

While Edmonton today is one of the best cities in Canada in which to live there is still much to be done which will greatly improve living conditions generally, and a live and competent city council can do much along these lines, said Mrs. Julia Kiniski, independent aldermanic candidate, in addressing a meeting in the Highlands on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Kiniski said that the housing problem was one of the most serious questions to be solved.

"Already in some sections there is a start toward slum conditions, and they in turn breed juvenile delinquency," she said. "We must strive to get decent and proper living conditions for all, at prices people in the lower income brackets can afford to pay, and we must let nothing stop us in our efforts to achieve these results."

Pointing out that a city gets the sort of government its citizens deserve, Mrs. Kiniski asked all present to get out and vote on election day, irrespective of which candidate was receiving their support.

"You want good government, get out and vote for it," she concluded.

Mrs. Kiniski who has been addressing a number of meetings in the city during the past ten days is speaking again to meetings at the Ukrainian hall on 96 street on Saturday and Sunday nights.

AFRICAN AGRICULTURE

MOKHATLONG, Basutoland. — (CP)—Anti-soil erosion work now is being carried on throughout this district on a rapidly increasing scale, and already hundreds of acres of cultivated lands have been protected from erosion by contour furrows and grass strips.

Trampled by Cow: Woman Loses Life

Mrs. Elsie Kopelko, 19-year-old wife of Jack Kopelko of the Hairy Hills district, was trampled and fatally injured by a cow at her farm home near Hairy Hills Thursday afternoon, according to a report given the Edmonton RCMP headquarters by Cpl. C. Gair of the Vegreville mounted police detachment.

Police said Mrs. Kopelko had entered a pasture to attend to a newly-born calf when the cow went berserk and attacked her.

She was rushed to the Vegreville hospital where she died several hours later.

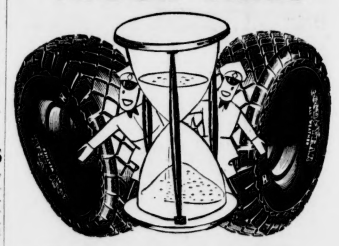

Police said no inquest was considered necessary.

Says Irrigation Of Importance To All Alberta

Bracketing the importance of irrigation as common to north and south Alberta, Hon. A. J. Hooke, provincial secretary and minister of economic affairs, Thursday night told the annual meeting of the East Edmonton Associated Social Credit groups that it is hoped to request the Dominion government to go into this problem most seriously.

"It is not good enough," he said, "to wait until there is an unemployment problem. Ottawa promised attention to eight Alberta irrigation projects after the war. Nor is the cost a problem, for had the war gone on the money would have been forthcoming, and the whole south country alone could be irrigated and Alberta made self-sufficient for less than the cost of one day's war."

The Rev. F. W. Williams was elected by acclamation president for the sixth successive year. Everett Wickens was elected vice-president and Ambrose Holowach, secretary. Mr. Holowach was elected to the entertainment committee with power to select his own members. A social committee also was chosen, composed of Mrs. J. W. Skinner, Mrs. W. Killips, Mrs. F. W. Williams, Mrs. Jack Guild, Mrs. C. McNaughton and Mrs. E. McKeever.

SEEDS OF WAR

"The seeds of World War II were sown in the peace treaties of World War I in 1918," said Mr. Hooke. "Therefore, the time to prevent World War III is now, in 1945."

Yet, he went on, the struggle for world markets, out of which the late war grew, is already being renewed, and again an invisible international power is assuming control of world monetary policies.

He quoted the late President Wilson of the U.S. who said that "somewhere there is a power it is not wise to condemn"; the late Lloyd George that "international financiers swept statesmen, jurists and journalists to one side knowing that there was no appeal against the financiers' ruthless decrees"; and Prime Minister Mackenzie King "that it is useless to talk of democracy until the people are in control of the nation's monetary policy."

"We were sowing the seeds of

Students' Council of University Appoints New Vice-President

At the University of Alberta Students' Council meeting on Wednesday evening, Miss Catharine Pierce was appointed vice-president of the council following a secret ballot vote by members present. Miss Pierce will replace Vera Reddekop who left university to be married.

Stanton Tenove's resignation as education representative was accepted. His successor will be nominated by the education executive.

The resignation of Clive Bowlsby as university ombudsman was also accepted. His successor is to be appointed by the council.

MEMBER APPOINTED

Bill Rorke has been appointed council representative of the university disciplinary committee. He will represent the Canadian University Returned Men's Association.

The appointment of Ty Hoffman as agriculture representative was confirmed. He was introduced to the assembly by President Ron Helmer.

Lloyd McLean, director of freshman introduction week, presented a report on the activities of that week and received a vote of thanks from the council for his capable management of such a large task.

The bleachers at the University grid have been condemned and a motion was put forth that they be demolished, as they are beyond repair. It is hoped that in a year or so new ones, built on concrete foundations, can be erected.

Bill Clarke, editor of the varsity "Gateway," outlined his plan for

World War II", he said, "when we tried to 'blast our way into the world's markets'; when we went to Europe to try and sell as much goods as we could and bring back as little as possible of things of which we had already plenty.

"People are still clamoring for foreign markets although there is a home market to which no attention is paid. During 'the hungry thirties' goods were being sent abroad while millions were on relief at home."

Pointing to the danger of thinking in terms of another depression "Why," he added, "should be talk of depression when we have the resources and know we can produce? If we use these resources, if we produce, money can be forthcoming as it would have been for war had the war continued, and the seeds of World War III will be destroyed."

General Motors Speeds Reconversion

Maintenance crews in the plant of General Motors of Canada, Ltd., Oshawa, Ont., are shown installing gears and sprockets to control the conveyor chains for the new Chevrolet and Pontiac automobile production line. During the war this line produced tanks for the Allied armies.

Winnipeg Youth Sentenced to Die

WINNIPEG, Oct. 19.—(CP)—Seventeen-year-old Armand Proulx last night was sentenced by Mr Justice Dysart to be hanged Dec. 29 for the murder of pretty Barbara Smith, 15, in a darkened archery field in suburban St. Boniface last July 28, after an assize court jury deliberated for three hours before returning a verdict of guilty, with recommendation for leniency because of the youth's low mentality.

Mr. Justice Dysart said that in view of the verdict he had no alternative to impose the death sentence on young Proulx, one of a family of 14 children, but he concurred in the recommendation for leniency and would support it by communicating with the minister of justice at Ottawa.

The verdict was returned after a three-day trial during which the jury heard that psychiatrists said Proulx had the mentality of a 10-year-old and that the refusal of the attractive girl to bare sexual relations with the accused could drive him to cause bodily harm especially while he was under the influence of liquor.

Police Investigate Thefts From Autos

City police Friday were investigating the theft of one automobile and the reported looting of three others. The stolen car, a 1930 coupe, was the property of P. S. Douglas, 10317 114 street.

Mr. Douglas said his car was stolen from 100 street and 100 avenue between 4 p.m. and 9 p.m. Thursday. The car is described as grey-green in color.

Ransacked cars were said to be those owned by Wilmot Hay of 11315 79 street; M. Taylor of Ste. 19, Hecla apartments; and Mrs. J. A. Young, Camrose, a guest at the Macdonald hotel.

Mr. Hay said a raincoat, a leather jacket and a pair of gloves were stolen from his car.

Mr. Taylor reported the theft of a leather brief case containing papers and documents.

Mrs. Young told police her auto was looted Thursday night while it was parked in the lane at the rear of the Macdonald. Missing were ten tins of fruit juice, a woman's hat equipped with a large red feather, and six or seven pairs of used women's stockings.

Business Men Plan South Side Meeting

The regular dinner meeting of the South Edmonton Business Men's Association will be held Friday Oct. 19, in Knox church basement, at 6.30 p.m. Special speakers for the evening will be R. D. Thompson, of the Dominion income tax department, who will speak on, "Your Income Tax Problems." Members are invited to bring their problems to be discussed and answered by Mr. Thompson. A full turn out is requested.

To you . . . our friends and patrons . . . we express sincere appreciation. This is our TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY . . . a long time in business . . . and we have thoroughly enjoyed serving you. It is your patronage . . . given so loyally for those twenty-five years . . . that has made our work a pleasure.

It has always been our ambition to give you a dining-centre, away from home, where you would find pleasant surroundings—excellent meals—and congenial company. We can promise you that we will always welcome you . . . that we will continue to maintain our high standard of good food . . . that we will spare no effort to give you prompt, friendly service.

On this occasion, our TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY, I would like to say . . . "Thank you."

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean

SPORTS EDITOR

LOOKS like a big Saturday for the juniors in Edmonton, the Calgary West End Tornadoes moving into Clarke Stadium for an afternoon football session with Canadians in the first round for the Alberta title, and Regina Commandos taking on the Canadian junior hockey aggregation at the Arena in the evening.

Another grid clash tomorrow of special interest to Albertans and Edmontonians in particular, is the Golden Bears versus Saskatchewan Huskies affair at Saskatoon. This is the opener for the western intercollegiate football season.

Fact that Dougie Stevenson was in the nets for Chicago Black Hawks against New York Rangers on Thursday night, recalls the statement made to this operator by President Bill Tobin, shortly before the close of the last NHL schedule. "I intend to see that Doug gets a thorough tryout next year, for I think he has the goods," said William. Stevenson is a former EAC junior.

JUST AN EXPLANATION

JUST by way of explanation, I would mention that it was at the specific request of Riley Mullin, the list of prospective Edmonton Flyers did not appear on this page Thursday.

The manager-coach of the Edmonton senior entry outlined the player situation Tuesday night, at the same time making the suggestion that the information be used Thursday. On Wednesday night, however, he asked that the announcement be deferred, explaining he was hopeful of contacting another prospect, whom he named, and stating he wished to wait a day or two, so as to include him along with the rest.

Most of the players have of course been mentioned in this column from time to time as turning out to senior practices, but in the absence of instructions to the contrary, it is assumed the "official" list of names is still to be withheld. There was another senior workout at the Arena on Thursday night.

HERE AND THERE . . .

IT probably isn't worrying him very much, but Ken Charlton, former Reginan, is on the suspended list. It seems Ken signed a Black Hawk agreement last spring and then overlooked the little formality of turning up at the recent Chicago hockey camp in Regina. Charlton is playing football with Ottawa Rough Riders this fall.

Bill Highet, junior right-winger from Edson, who has been working-out with Canadians for the past three weeks, left this morning for Vancouver, where he will play with that city's junior team. Alex. Cavelli, former Canadian goalie, is already in Vancouver.

Harry Black, recently out of the army, will be leaving one of these days for California and will play hockey in Los Angeles, or Hollywood. A former Edmonton junior, Harry attended University of Southern California, playing hockey in the meantime. He also performed in the California league prior to entering the Canadian army. Last year he was with the powerful Currie army senior club in Calgary.

Hawks Whip Rangers In Pre-Season Tilt

Bentley-Mosienko-Bentley Line Paces Chicago to 4-2 Triumph

Score Two While N.Y. Shorthanded

WINNIPEG, Oct. 19—(CP)—Chicago Black Hawks outskated New York Rangers in the final two periods here last night to gain a 4-2 victory in the first of a two-game exhibition series before a capacity crowd of 4,500 fans.

Penalties played an important part in the game with Chicago scoring two goals while Rangers were a man short. Sparked by the fast stepping line of Bill Mosienko, Doug and Max Bentley, Chicago moved into a lead in the second period when Doug Bentley sank a pass from Pete Horeck.

A solo effort by Doug Bentley early in the third stanza gave the Black Hawks a 3-0 lead before Rangers scored their first goal, when Hank Goldup scored on a pass from Ab Demarco, while Doug Bentley was off for tripping.

Red Hamill, who played a hard-checking game for the Hawks, took a pass from Don (The Count) Grosso and drove the puck past Sugar Jim Henry, but New York came back a minute later when Alex Shibicky sank the rubber from 10 feet out on a pass from Edgar Laprade.

Rangers turned on the power during the last five minutes of the game in an effort to tie the score but with just five seconds to go Wingy Johnson broke away to score Hawks' final tally.

"They'll Gang Up"

Irvin Doesn't Want Others Think Canadiens Superior

By PIERRE LE MOYNE

MONTREAL, Oct. 19—Dick Irvin, coach of Montreal Canadiens, feels "forced to admit the superiority" of his team in the National Hockey League this year, but doesn't want other coaches to think the same.

"If they make up their mind that we have the best team, they'll gang up on us," said Irvin. "In the Toronto Maple Leafs' training camp every one is very modest about the future of the Leafs and all have the highest praise for our team. They have something up their sleeves."

Irvin thinks he's in somewhat of a spot. "Nobody has forgotten our outstanding record of last year and for that reason alone you can be sure we'll be the team that all clubs will want to beat."

For "the superiority of his team," Irvin argues:

"Every team will open their schedule with a much stronger lineup than in previous years. Now Canadiens, having had the best club for the past two seasons, will be all the stronger this year and will again stand up at the top."

NEED LEFT WINGER

Among Canadiens' problems is need of a good left-winger to team up with Buddy O'Connor and Joe Benoit on the second line and an over-abundance of good defencemen, some of whom will have to be turned loose on close decisions.

Aside from the regular defence of last season, Canadiens have Mike McMahon, who helped them win the Stanley Cup in 1944; Cliff Goupille, the outstanding Canadien rearguard before he enlisted in the army; Wilf Field, who came to Montreal when New York Americans disbanded; and Butch Stahan, a promising player from the Quebec Senior Hockey League.

However, rumor has it that Irvin will keep his rearguard of last year: Butch Bouchard, all-star selection of last season, Leo Lamoureux, Glenn Harmon and Frankie Eddolls.

The Habitants are keeping their first-line intact with Elmer Lach, Maurice (Rocket) Richard and Toe Blake, who finished respectively first, second and third in NHL scoring last year.

WANT HERBIE CAIN

They are said to be negotiating with Boston Bruins for purchase of Herbie Cain to complete the second line with centremen O'Connor and right-winger Benoit. Irvin tried Billy Reay, former playing manager who led Quebec Aces to the Allan Cup in 1944, on the left berth, but thinks Reay, a natural centre-man, would play better hockey at his regular position.

On the third line Irvin can take his choice among Kenny Mosdell, Dutch Hiller, Fernand Gauthier, Bobby Fillion and Murphy Chamberlain, all regulars of last year, but he will probably keep them all, alternating them on the line.

Irvin holds that Habitants were defeated by Toronto Maple Leafs in the last NHL Stanley Cup playoffs because of lack of reserve and wants to carry 18 players throughout the season.

Goal will again go to Bill Durnan, twice winner of the Vezina trophy in his two years in the NHL with Bill (Lega) Fraser as substitute.

Canadiens open their schedule in Montreal against Chicago Black Hawks Oct. 27.

Second Straight For Providence

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 19—(AP)—Scoring in every period, Providence Reds chalked up their second straight victory over New Haven Eagles in as many nights, downing the birds, 7-4, to ruin the local opening-night festivities of the 1945-46 American Hockey League season.

A capacity crowd of 4,000 witnessed the game, the first professional hockey contest here since 1942.

Tallies by Kemp, Gagne and Lajoie gave the Reds a 3-1 lead in the opening session. George Bootham matched Armand Lemieux's marker in the second period. In the final session the victors pushed three more counters past the Eagle netminder for their three-goal margin, Norman Larson blinded the red light twice in the closing period for the Eagles.

Calgary Tornadoes All Set For Clash Here Saturday

CALGARY, Oct. 19—(CP)—Under the direction of coach Jack Lawrence, West End Tornadoes went through their final scrimmage here last night before travelling to Edmonton to play Canadians in the first game of the home and home series for the Alberta junior football championship.

Thirty players will leave here by bus at 7:30 Saturday morning for Edmonton. Lawrence has only added two players from other junior clubs to make his powerful team complete.

Canadians went through a stiff scrimmage drill last night at Clarke Stadium, and co-coaches Jim Pyper and Gordon Rayner are confident their charges would make a good showing against the highly rated southerners on Saturday.

Although beaten by Varsity the other night, the Canucks looked a much improved squad from their first engagement with the Calgary North Hill Blizzards last month.

The Calgarians will take the field favorites over the Edmonton-ians, having more experience, but they'll be up against a club that will be fighting right from the kick-off. It should be a fixture worth taking in with the old intercity rivalry still decidedly keen.

Training Camp Notes

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

In their first public appearance since returning from the wars, the Kraut line—Milt Schmidt, Bobby Bauer and Woodrow (Porky) Dumart—teamed Wednesday night in an exhibition game between Boston Bruins and Boston Olympics. Naturally, the threesome who were teammates and buddies with Boston teams from 1938 to 1942 scored the first goal on a play between Bauer and Schmidt.

"What are we going to do with Syl Apps?"

That question sounds silly on the surface of things but it is credited to do astute a hockey authority as Maj. Conny Smythe, who is superintending a surplus of talent at the Toronto Maple Leaf training camp in Owen Sound, Ont.

The whisper is out that Apps, when and if he gets back from the army, may be fitted into a left wing berth to make room for star centres like Billy Taylor, Gus Bodnar, Pete Langelle and Ted Kennedy. Apps, one of hockey's great individualists, played the left boards in his college days.

Lester Patrick, manager of New York Rangers, says there is reason to believe Max Colville will be able to join Rangers within 30 days—either through a discharge from the army in which Colville is a private, or through six-month leave of absence. Colville passed through Winnipeg recently on a troop train bound for Edmonton.

Boxla Officials Urged Reconsider Gunn's Suspension

VANCOUVER, Oct. 19—(CP)—Some 100 lacrosse fans and officials at a public meeting here Wednesday night passed resolutions urging reconsideration of the Canadian Lacrosse Association suspension of referee Jimmy Gunn of Vancouver and criticizing the CLA for excluding the press from the meeting at which Gunn was suspended.

Copies of resolutions were addressed to the Intercity Lacrosse League which could send a protest to the CLA through the British Columbia branch.

Gunn was suspended for using abusive language in the Canadian finals. The suspension was ordered at a CLA meeting to which Gunn had been summoned to give evidence in connection with an attack on him by Bill Whittaker, St. Catharine's goaler.

E. E. Barnes of Vancouver, CLA past president, said Wednesday night, "We have not yet dealt finally with Whittaker."

Buffalo Bisons Tie Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 19—(AP)—A pair of last-period goals by Murdo MacKay and Paul Mundrich enabled Buffalo Bisons to tie Indianapolis Capitals 3-3 in an American Hockey League contest last night before 8,728 fans.

The Bison's rally all but spoiled the Caps' home opener after Indianapolis had gone ahead in the second period.

MacKay's goal was scored unassisted at 9:25 of the third period and Nakina Smith assisted Mundrich five minutes later. Bill Allum scored the first Buffalo goal in the second period.

Pete Leswick had provided Indianapolis with a two-goal lead in the second period, and Leis Douglas had added a third capital score at the outset of the final period.

Winter Golf Tour Starts on Nov. 2

CHICAGO, Oct. 19—(AP)—The largest caravan of professional golfers in history will start down golfdom's winter trail of gold Nov. 2, and before New Year's day will have picked up $78,665 in war bonds along the way, Fred Corcoran, PGA tournament manager announced Wednesday.

The winter tournament trail starts at Richmond, Va., Nov. 2, and winds up 1945 with the big Crosby pro-amateur meet at Del Mar, Calif., Dec. 30.

After New Year's day the 1946 winter schedule gets under way at Los Angeles, heads east across the south, then north from Florida into the Carolinas. Corcoran said the 1945 schedule has not been completely arranged, but added that every tournament would carry a prize of $10,000 or more.

The monetary unit of The Netherlands is the guilder (florin), with an average value of $0.26, based on official German rate.

Canadians Hold Final Drill In Prepping for Commandos

Game Saturday Night

CANADIAN Athletic Club juniors held a final workout at the Arena on Thursday in preparation for the game against Regina Commandos on Saturday night, the starting time of which has been set for 9 o'clock.

Coach Louis Holmes split the squad into two teams, all players taking part with the exception of Ron Matthews, who is still handicapped by a recent ankle injury. The big defenceman, however, did some skating and may be used against Regina.

No starting lineup has been hinted, local Canadians are well fortified with reserves and it is possible all will see action Saturday.

For goal they have Don Murray, last year's regular net-minder as well as Norm Kunitch, promising juvenile custodian. Defencemen include Bill Gadsby, Leo Sorsa, Ken Anderson of the 1944-45 team, Doug Johnson, just out of the Navy, Jack Davies who is still a juvenile and Mathews.

Last year's Alberta champions have developed considerable offensive power already, but Coach Holmes is still experimenting with various front line combinations.

Hold overs John Rypien, Eddie Thomas and Cy Thomas have been working together, while Doug Anderson, also from the '44-45 lineup, has been pivoting for Bill Johnson and Don Slaier, two Winnipeg boys.

Harry Groves, Dick Sisson and Harvey Rose were used at still another attacking trio against the All-Stars last Saturday. Leo Luchini, shifty playmaker from Cadomin and Calgary's Fred Spence are both centres.

No definite word had come out of Regina up to last night, as to the probable roster for Commandos this year, but, Al Greenaway, Jim Arnott, Dick Hammond and Paddy Ryan are announced as the only absentees from last season's team.

Regina has George Beach, one of the smartest centres to appear on Arena ice here last winter, and other likely performers are Jack Wilkie, George Raymont, Ray Gates big Jim Fairbairn, Billy Pates, Les Gawthrop, Red Staley and Klassen.

CANADIAN PIVOT.—Doug Anderson, Canadian junior holdover from last season, has been showing up well this season. He will centre Bill Johnson and Don Slater on one string against Regina Commandos here on Saturday night.

Australia Will Defend Davis Cup

NEW YORK, Oct. 19—(AP)—Revival of international tennis competition was assured Thursday as Australia announced it would defend the Davis Cup and the United States entered the first formal challenge.

Sir Norman Brookes, president of the Australian Lawn Tennis Association, said the challenge round will be played "down under" in late December of next year after a lengthly conference with Holcombe Ward and members of the executive committee of the USLTA had assured their co-operation.

Great Britain, France, Canada, Mexico, Brazil, Chile, Argentina and Ecuador are expected to challenge for the trophy, symbolic of world net superiority, that was captured from the United States by the Aussies in 1939, shortly after the outbreak of World War II.

Jack Bromwich and Adrian Quist, who carried the entire burden for the Australians six years ago, are understood to be playing in top form despite the lengthy war and they have been joined by Ducky Pails, a very promising younger player.

Toronto Argos Acquire Joe Krol

TORONTO, Oct. 19—(CP)—Toronto Argonauts announced last night Joe Krol, triple-threat backfielder who led Hamilton Wildcats to the Dominion football title in 1945, has agreed to sign an Argonaut contract and will be available for play starting Oct. 27.

Manager Earl Seiffert said Argos had been in touch by wire with the outstanding Windsor, Ont., athlete and that Krol probably will sign today.

Syl Apps Hopes Join Leafs Soon

OTTAWA, Oct. 19—(CP)—Lieut. Syl Apps who dazzled hockey fans as one of the starriest of Toronto Maple Leaf centre iremen left Ottawa last night for Toronto to become attached to military district No. 2 there.

It was believed Apps, who has been stationed here, would get his discharge or a leave of absence from the army at Toronto so as may rejoin the Leafs.

Vic Bantams Beat Eastwood To Win Fourth Straight

Victoria High chalked up their fourth straight victory in the City High School Six Man Bantam Football League by defeating Eastwood 17-0 yesterday afternoon at Clarke Stadium.

With only one more game remaining to be played in the schedule, the Victoria squad have racked up a total of 72 points, and have yet to be scored on, which is quite a record in any league.

The winners started out early in the first quarter with a touchdown on a series of line bucks by Jim Stewart and end runs by Bill Aubrey, polished off by an end run by Ken Kuchinski. They added another point just before quarter ended when Kuchinski tackled an Eastwood player behind his goal line for a rouge on Stewart's kick from the 30 yard strip.

In the second quarter Hauptman scored another touchdown on an end run.

During the third frame, Eastwood started to show a lot of fight and made several attempts to break into the scoring, but were stopped by the strong line of Victoria.

Jim Stewart got Victoria's third and final touchdown by racing around the end during the dying moments of the game. He also made the convert good.

Lineups.

Victoria: Aubrey, Christy, Stocks, Malkewich, Lockhovich, Thomson, Stewart, Hauptman, Kuchinski, Williams, Mundy, Nakamura.

Eastwood: Taylor, Tidsbury, Lee's, Larson, Dickson, Mazurich, Skidnuk, Patterson, Dunsworth, Laubman, Duckworth, Trimble.

CANADIAN SPORTSHOTS

BY ALAN HARVEY

TORONTO, Oct. 19.—(CP)—Professional baseball scouts are like travelling salesmen. They always have choice words of wisdom to dispense, and an anecdote to point the moral.

For instance, scout Fred (Pork) Lamlein of the Chicago Cubs believes young baseball players, like kindergarten pupils, should always "do what they're told." Fred is a former resident of Kitchener, Ont., who played baseball in Waterloo shortly after the turn of the century and made his major league debut with St. Louis Cardinals in 1916.

In an interview with Fred (Kitchener Record) Thompson, Lamlein recalled the circumstances of his first start in professional company to emphasize his faith in the do-what-you're-told principle.

The Cardinals were trailing Cincinnati Reds by seven runs when Lamlein was thumbed from the bullpen. The bases were loaded and nobody out—a tough situation for a rookie hurler. On top of that, his catcher was Mike Gonzales, a Cuban with only a fragmentary understanding of the English language.

At that time, Gonzales could hardly make himself understood. He told Lamlein he had only one sign—for a waste or "pitchout" ball. If Gonzales didn't give that one sign, Lamlein could throw any pitch he pleased.

Well, Lamlein strolled to the mound and was nonplussed when Gonzales gave the sign for the first pitch. The kitchen boy couldn't figure a pitchout with the bases loaded and nobody away, so he called for time and asked Mike to confirm the signal.

Gonzales did, so Lamlein threw the waste ball. The catcher whirled out of position, whipped a fast peg to third and caught Joe Tinker off the bag to relieve the pressure.

"That taught me a great lesson," Lamlein told Thompson. "If young ball players do what they're told, they'll go a long way."

Horse racing seems destined to go bigtime next year on Canada's west coast.

No definite plans have been announced, but it can be taken for granted that the purchase of two Vancouver race tracks by United States interests will mean a reorganization of racing in the British Columbia city.

Already there are hints, via Tom (Calgary, Alberta) Moore, that Canada's first "tote" board will be installed at an early date.

"Substantial improvements to mutuel rooms, stabling, grandstand and landscaping are being planned," adds Moore.

The company which purchased Lansdowne and Brighouse Park in suburban Vancouver and also bought a downtown Vancouver building for a total of $750,000 is the recently-incorporated British Columbia turf and country club. Executive members include Bing Crosby, movie star Pat O'Brien, and Charles S. Howard of San Francisco, owner of Seabiscuit.

Billy Conn Decides to Sign Fight Joe Louis Next June

By SID FEDER

NEW YORK, Oct. 19—(AP)—Billy Conn Thursday took his first decision since leaving the army—a rich win over promoter Mike Jacobs. Then he put his name on contracts calling for his return match with Joe Louis next June.

The Pittsburgh Irishman scratched his "William David Conn" across the bottom of half a dozen agreements for the fight after a two-hour session, during which he and his manager, Johnny Ray, won virtually every point they had argued about for two days.

These were some of the spoils they took back to Pittsburgh last night:

1. Permission for Billy to appear in as many pre-fight exhibition bouts as he wants, although all tune-up tussels are barred.

2. A 20 per cent cut of the gate—just what Conn received for his first fuss with the Bomber in 1941, when he was flattened in 13 rounds, but 2½ per cent more than a challenger's usual end.

3. A 20 per cent slice of the television and motion picture pie. Mike is planning to pipe the television into movie houses.

4. Agreement by Jacobs to sell the expected fancy-priced television rights for this fight separately, instead of including it in the "package" Mike peddles by the year for all his promotions. Thus Billy and the Bomber are insured a cut of the actual return from televising this one big shot. Otherwise they would have had to take a piece of what would be allotted to their bout, on a pro rata basis, from the television receipts Mike receives for his entire year's promotions.

Although the champagne-and-turkey breakfasts of the Dempsey-Kearns hey-day were missing, this was an old-fashioned signing, complete with photographer's bulbs, a couple of dozen sports writers, lawyers, managers and a gold-headed pen. The only guy missing, of course, was Louis, who signed last Monday—with no more argument than if he were writing a post-card.

Giants Claim Have Shortstop Good as Marion

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(AP)—Unlike most major league club owners who would like to have the services of Marty Marion, termed the "Mr. Short Stop" of baseball, President Horace Stoneman of New York Giants is not interested in the St. Louis Cardinals' star.

"I believe we are going to come up with a shortstop who in a few years will be every bit as good as Marion," Stoneman said. "His name is John Rigney and we obtained him from Oakland of the Pacific Coast League in the deal that sent Dolf Camilli to manage the Oaks in 1940.

"Reports from Hawaii—and the Pacific isles where Rigney has participated in the army-navy exhibitions all agree Rigney can step into the lineup at almost any big league team right now."

Rigney, 22 years old and bespectacled, spent the last two of his four years in organized baseball with Oakland. Although not rated an exceptionally strong hitter in his last year before enlisting, and got rave notices for his fielding

"Greatest Shot" His Fearlessness Made Sarazen Best Golfer of His Day

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(BUP)—The garrison of golf was Gene Sarazen. He was the most daring and the boldest player of his day.

Sarazen was born on the wrong side of the tracks, but he tore up the tracks with typical fearlessness and became one of the best golfers in history.

In 1932, he stood on the pinnacle of power—acknowledged open golf champion of the world. Ten years before—in 1922—he was crowned king of match and medal play in the United States.

He won both the open and professional crowns that same summer.

When Gene threw his blade into the arena of golfing, he backed it with a challenge. He dared the great and only Walter Hagen to meet him anywhere, anytime. He beat the Haig at his own game—even after Sir Walter had him two down at the half way mark.

He went to Scotland after that, and there said "bring on your winds and rain."

Gene Sarazen

The challenge was accepted. The rains fell and the winds blew—and he was beaten. But Sarazen never admitted defeat. Time and time again he returned to Scotland. Finally, in 1932, he got his reward.

That day, playing his final rounds on the toughest of all courses—the Princes at Sandwich—Sarazen not only won, he broke the all time record with a near 70 average for 4 rounds.

One of the greatest victories Gene enjoyed was in July of 1923 when he played in the United States open.

IN FOURTH PLACE

He started the last round in fourth place. Jones and Mehlorn were tied for first with a 216, and the veteran Johnny Black was a stroke behind.

Mehlorn was the first to finish with 290. It looked good until Sarazen came along with 68 to fumble Wild Bill out of the show.

In the first nine holes of the final round, Gene posted six fives, one four and two threes for a 40 out.

But even more dramatic was Sarazen's play in the final round of the Augusta Masters open.

It was Craig Wood that suffered from the blazing stretch play of Sarazen this time.

Sarazen settled Wood's hash with one shot—and it was a heart-breaker.

Of course, luck may have figured very heavily in that shot—it probably will never be duplicated in the next hundred years.

Gene was always at his best when the stakes were high and the odds against him.

Wood finished early, and it looked as though he had clinched it. Sarazen played poor golf during the first half round and couldn't seem to get going.

However, in the final round, he hit his stride and shot the works. The old scoring fire began to blaze as Gene moved down the last leg.

The 15 thousand sweltering fans that followed the game were amazed at the brand of golf he displayed.

They saw the unleashed fury of his drives carry for 300 yards and more. They roared as he blazed away at distant flags. And they stampeded to hear his birdies sing. They saw pars fall from a putter stroked by a genius at play.

ROUSING FINISH

Then they massed around the final green to witness his triumph.

Coming up to the last hole he needed three under par five to win. It looked like a hopeless situation. But there couldn't have been any doubt in Gene's mind—or any fear in his fighting heart.

He hit a tremendous drive off the tee. It was a beautiful shot, and the crowd applauded in appreciation. But in order to win Sarazen had to hole the ball in one more shot—the par on the hole was five and it took a good golfer to sheer that.

The green looked like a small island. A wide, shallow creek bubbled lazily along in front of it.

Sarazen took a long time sizing up the situation. It didn't seem possible that he still hoped to win. But Gene made his intention obvious by choosing a spoon for what should have been a mid-iron shot.

He sighted for a moment, then hit. It was a low, flat drive that barely cleared the creek. The ball rolled slowly toward the pin. And the crowd held its breath—the ball rolled in.

With this one shot, he gained the three strokes needed to win.

There have been years when Gene Sarazen missed all the high stakes of professional golf—but there was never a year when he was not a feared competitor. And there was never a year that he did not fight to the bitter end.

In the last year of the war, the National Film Board produced more than 150 films for war information purposes.

Close Calls on Bataan—MacArthur's Mysterious Phone Message Described by General as Battle Goes On

In today's tenth installment of General Jonathan M. Wainwright's intimate account of the fall of the Philippines and the tragic events leading up to his equally tragic capture, the hero of Bataan and Corregidor gives details of his close calls on Bataan, and leads up to the mysterious phone call from General MacArthur which was sharply to change his military role in the Philippines.—EDITOR.

By GENERAL JONATHAN M. WAINWRIGHT

(Copyright 1945, King Features Syndicate, Inc., and The Edmonton Bulletin. Reproduction in whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

As for my own safety during the Bataan campaign, the main danger came from having to travel about so much, visiting what was now—in February, 1942—a front running across the peninsula from Gen. George M. Parker's left flank to the China Sea and then down the coastline and around to Mariveles.

There were a few close calls, shared by my aides, Johnny Pugh and Tom Dooley, my orderly, Sgt. Carroll, and Frank Hewlett, the correspondent, who often was with me.

Once a Jap cruiser fired from extreme range at sea upon a coastal battery I was visiting, and which I had ordered to open fire on the warship.

But a closer scrape came during the time I was up with the troops trying to extricate the trapped First Philipine Division. I was personally commanding the detachments at the time, and standing partly under the cover afforded by a bank on the right side of the road. The road was dug into the side of a high hill.

Sgt. Carroll was right behind me. Either he saw some Japs on the hill above us or sensed they were there. Anyway, I was in the midst of an order to a junior officer when I felt Sgt. Carroll grab two fistfuls of the seat of my pants and he yanked me down to my haunches while he shouted in his loudest Texas twang:

"Damn it, general, get down or you'll get your damn head shot off!"

HEAVY RIFLE FIRE

Immediately a burst of rather heavy rifle fire came right over the top of the bank, where my head had been. One of the bullets splattered into a tree just across the road, inches behind Tom Dooley's head. A Philippine Army officer and a soldier were killed a few feet from me.

I had two close calls from strafing planes. The first one came one day while I still had the Packard I was given when I commanded the old Philippine Division. By this time it was on its last legs, victim of a number of collisions with trucks, a few sideswipes by tanks, and the ruts of Philippine roads.

It had been a target for almost everything except lightning, on the day something akin to lightning hit it. We were driving along—Hewlett and I, with Sgt. Carroll keeping his eye peeled looking for planes—when suddenly Carroll let out a Texas yell. The Filipino driver brought the car to a shrieking stop in the middle of the road and we threw open the doors.

A Zero fighter was coming straight down the road at us, very low and tremendously fast.

DIVE INTO DITCHES

There were two little ditches at the side of the road. The driver hit the dirt on the opposite side of the road, Carroll dived into one of the ditches, Hewlett took a dry dive into the other ditch and I went right in there on his back as the Zero's wing guns spouted up.

The stream of bullets raced up the road at perhaps 300 mph and hit right through the top of the Packard.

I got up off Hewlett's back feeling foolish. I hate to be a grounded flop.

I used a jeep after that. Pugh, Dooley, Hewlett and I were bumping along in it one day when another Zero nailed us from behind.

But this time there were no ditches to hit, no sense even to throw ourselves on the ground—which makes a soldier feel bad and, in a situation like this, affords him no more protection if he just stands and watches.

We had time only to get out of the jeep and reach the side of the narrow road. The bullets hammered down the road and somehow missed the jeep, but cut a furrow within ten feet of where we stood.

It was a bad feeling. But Bataan was a hopeless Hell where everything was bad except the will to live, the memories of home fastidious as they sometimes could be, and the ever-dimming hope that the great country we represented would somehow find a way to help us.

ATTACK MAIN LINE

About mid-way in the fight to push back into the water the Japs who were attacking my rear flank, the enemy began to hit us on the main line to the north.

One strong Jap prong came down a trail leading into the centre of the Eleventh Division and penetrated nearly a mile, on a mile-wide front. Simultaneously, another Jap force infiltrated deep down the gorge of the Colar river, intent upon linking with the force that pierced the Eleventh's line and pocketing a considerable number of our men.

Instead, we pocketed the two forces. The First Philippine Division pounded up the smaller of the two Jap forces in about a week of fighting. The larger Jap force, the one that hit into the front of the Eleventh, was cornered by the Eleventh itself, plus a battalion of the Second Philippine Constabulary, two battalions of the Ninety-first Division and a battalion of the great Forty-fifth Infantry Scouts, under Lt. Col. Lathrop.

Both trapped Jap outfits dug in well, constructing not only foxholes but a network of connecting tunnels. It took us 12 days to wipe them out. 12 days of bitter fighting during which our men up front who had closed ranks after the Japs burst through resisted all Jap efforts to rip through to the pocketed Nips.

It was a savage ferreting job. Rifle fire and machine-gun bursts were of little use, for the Japs were underground. We had so little infantry mortar ammunition left that we could not lob a suitable barrage into their holes.

So we had to go up and practically breathe in the face of the dug-in Japs. It was fighting that would be considered fantastically improbable if seen on a movie screen. Junior officers with sacks of grenades drove up to the enemy's foxholes while sitting on the hoods of our remaining tanks—and pegged the grenades right down the foxholes.

Whenever the answering fire was too tough, we called for volunteers among the 1gorot men of the Eleventh Division. These incredible people, the greatest guides I ever saw, would ride the tops of tanks, whose hatches were closed, and direct the driver to the right foxhole by pounding with a club first on one side of the steel top of the tank and then on the other. These breathtaking performances were only some of the improvisations we had to adopt to stick on Bataan as long as we did.

LANDINGS REPULSED

Toward the end of the grim ferretting the four landings along the China Sea to my rear were successfully repulsed and on Feb. 17 I was able to report to MacArthur that the 1 Corps now held every foot of ground it had first occupied on arrival at the reserve battle position.

From Corregidor MacArthur sent back a message saying, "Well done, I Corps."

I told him, too, in a subsequent report, what I thought of the splendid work of several native officers, Brig. Gen. Segundo, for one, and the extraordinary Brig. Gen. Vincente Lim, part Chinese commander of the Forty-first Division. Gen. Lim was a graduate of West Point and of the infantry school at Fort Benning. He retired from our army as a major to join the Philippine Army and was made a general.

It was his fate, I learned later, to be murdered in the most pitiless way which Gen. Yamashita could contrive. Yamashita, I was also told later, caused the execution of Gen. Segundo and many other courageous Philippine officers who fought for their land and ours.

LOSSES ARE HEAVY

Our losses were heavy during the sheltered fighting that re-established our positions, and the land we held was now dotted with crude crosses marking the last resting places of our dead. The wounded were carried back to tented medical stations, where heroic medical corpsmen and nurses attended them, and then were moved farther back to our few hospitals near Mariveles.

Malaria, another ruthless enemy, hung over us like a black cloud, enveloping a land of men whose bones were jumping through their tightly-stretched skin.

Yet we knew that things would get worse. Such portions of the winding Pilar-Bagac road as were within our lines began to come under the heavy fire of large artillery pieces the Japs were bringing south on the railway they now owned. A detachment of the Fourteenth Engineers, working feverishly, threw a cut-off road and sheltered road across Bataan about six miles south of the Pilar-Bagac highway, and in this makeshift way we were able to maintain contact with General Parker's forces to east of us.

Parker's II Corps, I felt certain, would receive the brunt of the all-out Jap attack when it did come. The east coastal area of southern Bataan is more of a plain than the central and western areas we now held. The streams on the east side of the peninsula tend to run in a southwesterly direction.

On the side my I Corps defended the streams normally ran due west and empty into the China Sea. Thus any attack against the I Corps would be handicapped by stream crossings and successive ridges, whereas the Japs could march down Parker's side more or less parallel to the streams.

Led often by Igorots, who magically knew their way about Bataan even though they six mountain men from North Luzon, I now sent out a series of patrols into the Jap lines. These remarkable forces, some of them disguised in native dress, were my best means of reconnaisance, often my only means.

From their reports I knew the position and movement of the Jap forces gathering for an all-out attack, and what they told me of Jap troops and gear being moved toward the east confirmed my belief that Parker's II Corps would receive the brunt of the blow.

Then, late in the night of March 9-10, my phone rang in the little cleared place that served as my command post, just south of Bagac.

It was Maj. Gen. Richard Sutherland, MacArthur's Chief of Staff, calling from Corregidor to tell me that MacArthur wanted to see me. I repeated his instructions: boat . . . Mariveles . . . noon.

I was too tired to ask why MacArthur wanted me.

What he wanted, I found out the next day, was to say goodbye and to leave me with a new assignment. He was going to Australia—ordered out of the Philippines by President Roosevelt.

(Tomorrow: General Wainwright tells his men that MacArthur has gone, learns of his appointment as commander-in-chief of U.S. forces in the Philippines and gets a Jap invitation to surrender.)

New Treatment Stomach Ulcers

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(AP)—New York University College of Medicine's experimental surgery laboratory announced yesterday a treatment for stomach ulcers which it asserted provided relief from pain in one to two days.

The laboratory also said in a report that the treatment resulted in the disappearance of the ulcers on X-ray films in two to three weeks in more than a score of cases.

It involves frequent feedings with "Amigen," a protein hydrolysate (predigested proteins) now widely used in treatment of severe cases of malnutrition, extensive burns and surgical convalescence, the report said.

The ROAD AHEAD

by Capt. HARPER PROWSE, M.L.A.

THE announcement that representatives of the department of veterans affairs are to be attached to the offices of the Veterans' Land Act in both Peace River and Grande Prairie is the best evidence I have yet seen that the department of veterans affairs is really trying to do a first class job of assisting veterans to rehabilitate themselves.

Up until the present, although the department has been doing a good job for men stationed in or near Edmonton, it has not been of much real use to veterans from out outlying districts. In fact the percentage of veterans who have taken advantage of the excellent counselling and guidance services offered by the department has been distressingly small.

The reason for this was neither that the veterans had no confidence in the department, nor that the department was unwilling to help all those who required help, but because a veteran living in an outlying district just couldn't afford the money to pay his fare to the cities, and pay for his keep while he was there, so he just forget about it. The department is of course quite willing to pay the men for such expenses, but the men didn't generally understand it.

SUGGESTION REJECTED

When the suggestion was first made to Ottawa, some months ago that arrangements should be made to place trained representatives of the department of veterans affairs in every centre where Veterans Land Act officers are established and to arrange to have these men travel around at that time several members would be available. Ottawa turned the idea down.

Since that time it has been steadily urged by the officials of the department in Alberta that the situation here is entirely different from the situation existing in the east where there are concentrated centres of population. Ottawa countered by stating that they were appointing special rehabilitation officers to each of the offices of National Selective Service to give special service to veterans.

However, it was pointed out that as these rehabilitation officers were being paid ridiculously low wages that if they were any good at all the fine persons they would rehabilitate would be themselves, and if they weren't able to do that they wouldn't be of much use to anybody else. Finally Ottawa got the picture. Finally the treaty that seems to have existed between the department of veterans affairs and the department of labor was overcome.

OFFICERS ON JOB

Now the department of labor rehabilitation officers are there to give what service they are capable of giving. And as the present plan expands, within the next few months we can be reasonably sure that a trained counsellor from the department of veterans' affairs will visit each section of the country regularly.

Whereas the rehabilitation officers of the department of labor were qualified only to tell veterans whether or not there were jobs to be had, and if there were, where they were, and to issue permits to go looking for them, the travelling counsellors will be able to advise men about all their problems, to explain to them the benefits they are entitled to obtain, and where necessary, to authorize the men to travel to the cities in order to get advice from specially selected specialist advisors.

It is a feather in the caps of Mr. D. E. Mould, of the Edmonton office, and Mr. Joe Sutton, of the Calgary office, that they have been successful in getting their point across to the head office of the department of veterans affairs. It is a feather in the hat of the chiefs of the department of veterans affairs that they were willing to listen to the advice and requests of their representatives in the field.

Too often chiefs of departments take the stand that they are the ones who are giving orders and making plans and when they want advice they will ask for it. The chiefs of the department of veterans affairs have shown that they have confidence in their juniors and are willing to accept their suggestions. This is not only heartening to those of us who are interested in the future of the veterans, it is laying down a precedent which should be followed by every government department.

COURAGE IS SHOWN

Our directors of rehabilitation in this province have shown that they have courage to disagree with their chiefs, their chiefs have shown that they have the courage to admit that their juniors in the field are in the best position to judge what is needed to give proper service. Thanks to you both!

Last Freight Bound For Norman Wells

The last load of freight to reach Norman Wells before the winter sets in and halts northern navigation completely, is on its way to that settlement in the Northern Transportation Company's craft Slave Lake, F. W. Broderick, local manager, stated on Friday morning.

The freight was taken part way up the still barely navigable northern rivers by the Radium King, and was transferred at the point where the two vessels met. This practice was designed to eliminate the possibility of having two ships frozen into the northern rivers in the freeze-up now expected daily.

Though this is the last shipment for Norman Wells and settlement further north, the company's local manager stated that freight would still be carried to other places further south until the fall freeze-up definitely stopped the boats.

The Radium Queen, the Radium King and the Clearwater, all ship under the Northern Transportation Company's flag, are now south bound, and skippers hope that another brief voyage or two may yet be made.

Remembrance Day Services Planned

Remembrance services for those who died in two great wars will be held on Sunday, Nov. 11 in the Edmonton Memorial Hall starting at 10:30 a.m., it was announced Friday by Canadian Legion officials.

The Very Reverend Dean A. M. Trendell, padre of the Edmonton Canadian Legion branches, will be in charge of the service, and there will be the usual parade to the Cenotaph following the Memorial Hall gathering.

Additional details of the Remembrance Day services will be announced later.

The Inquiring Reporter

THE QUESTION

What was your reaction to the reported pillaging of the Royal Navy's aircraft carriers Implacable in Vancouver by civilian visitors?

THE ANSWERS

R. SIEMAN, former naval rating: I think Vancouverites ought to be heartily ashamed. The probability is that a good many of the ship's complement will be blamed and disciplined just because they trusted the visitors to behave properly.

C. ARMSTRONG, formerly of the Canadian Army: The conduct of the Vancouver ship's visitors was outrageous, but I can't help thinking there was an unwarranted laxity displayed by the officers of the Implacable. How did the crowd get away with it?

PAUL JOHANNSON, mechanic: The citizens of Vancouver certainly queered themselves as to future "at homes" aboard visiting war vessels, I would say. I read that the mayor of Vancouver issued a statement giving assurance of no prosecutions if articles taken are returned. I don't think much of that. I think every one caught with something in his possession from the ship should be prosecuted for theft.

Saturday Deadline For Placing Names On List of Voters

Saturday evening between 8 and 10 o'clock will be the last time electors in Edmonton will be able to have their names placed on the municipal voters list, if they were omitted when the annual compilation was made.

Bruce V. Massie, revising officer, will sit for the last time on Saturday evening to register those whose names have been left off the lists, or to make corrections of names already on.

There has been little interest in the revision to date, as only 12 names have been added to the lists.

Brig. Bradbrooke Is Leaving Army

Recently appointed officer commanding the 41st Recruiting Group, Brig. G. R. Bradbrooke, MC, is proceeding on leave pending retirement, headquarters of Military District No. 13 announced today.

An officer with 27 years commissioned service in the Canadian Army, Brig. Bradbrooke enlisted as a bugler in 1914 at the age of 18 years, and in 1917 was appointed to a commission in the Canadian Machine Gun Corps, later winning the Military Cross for gallantry. Following the First World War he joined the permanent force holding appointments in Western Canada.

In February, 1941, Brig. Bradbrooke was selected to command the Calgary Regt. (Tank) and took the unit overseas with the rank of lieutenant colonel. In December, 1941, he was one of the three Canadian officers selected to go to the Middle East as observers with the British Army.

He returned to Canada last March.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS:

Inexplicable Mania To Get Sympathy Is Reason

Wives Ever Dissatisfied; Happy Married Life Attributed to Fact That Wife Does Not Worry Husband About His Little Faults

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have had an unusual happy married life and I attribute it to the fact that I do not worry my husband about his little faults and foibles, but let him enjoy his little "ways" in peace. I believe that wives interfering with their husband's habits breaks up more homes than any other one thing. Why do women have such a talent for making themselves and their husbands miserable about little things?

MARTHA

ANSWER: I don't know-its the way they are built. They can't be happy unless they have a grievance and something to worry over. God, Himself, couldn't make a place that just suited a woman and which she could settle down and be happy and contented. See Eve.

ALL WELL-PROVIDED FOR

Of course the chief cause of complaint that women have against their husbands is that they take them for granted. I'll bet I have gotten a million letters from wives who told me that they were married to fine, upright, loyal men, who were kind and generous to them and who gave them beautiful homes and cars and fine clothes, but husbandless, they never paid them compliments, or told them that they still love them, and the result was were making themselves utterly wretched over that and spoiling all the good times.

Another thing that asks the hearts of innumerable wives is having husbands who read at night, instead of entertaining them with sprightly conversation. Not being willing to step out of an evening and dance until 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning after a long, hard day's work turns many another marriage into cinders, ashes and dust for wives who cannot see why their husbands should be tired at night when they feel so rested after their afternoon nap, and who set it down to sure carelessness in the male animal.

Other wives complain that their husbands' table manners, still others consider themselves martyrs because their husband's grammar gets on their nerves. Thousands of thousand women have had the dream of domestic bliss by scattering cigarette ashes on the floor, having a pet, or a collection of something that the wife call "junk," or having the fishing mania, or being addicted to golf.

All of which goes to show that there is mighty little encouragement in a husband trying to please his wife. She will root around until she finds the crumpled rose leaf under her forty mattresses of ease.

SECRETLY MARRIED

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 19. My husband is 22. We were secretly married four months ago. Why I did it I do not know. My husband is good, has no bad habits, but I realize I have made an awful mistake. I don't love him and I want to go out with other men.

Should I get a divorce now before we have any children, or go on and see what happens next?

B. C. S.

ANSWER: You seem to have gotten a better husband than you deserve, but inasmuch as you have lost your taste for him inside of four months and you find yourself totally unengrossed and you want to run around with other boys, there doesn't seem to be much prospect of happiness, or of your making a success of your marriage.

You will have to decide yourself whether it is better to divorce him now when there are no children to complicate matters, or continue on with a loveless union. That is up to you. No one else can take the responsibility of settling that question for you.

WANTS BABY

DEAR MISS DIX: I cannot have children, but more than anything else in the world I want a baby. Adoption is out of the question. Please tell me how I can be happy without one.

LONESOME

ANSWER: Happiness is self-made and mostly a matter of self-discipline. Force yourself to quit thinking about how much you want [illegible] your mind fixed [illegible] which you are so much interested that it will not leave you time to dwell on your disappointment. Why not look for a job in some orphanage and expend your mother love on many children instead of one?

Patients with hemorrhoids or piles frequently go months or years before discomfort, preferring to suffer in silence. This attitude is caused, understood, presence is called fear. Inc. reasons. The distress which may be enduring from hemorrhoids is avoidable inasmuch as this distressing often be relieved in a satisfactory manner.

In common [illegible] hemorrhoids [illegible] rectum [illegible] to the natural stretching of a vein. It may become sore, tender and raw, and may protrude or come down. If the bleeding type of hemorrhoids there is an escape of blood.

In severe cases, hemorrhoids are capable of causing a degree of distress while the patients are walking or standing. Due to the presence of many sensitive nerves in the last few inches of the intestinal tract, hemorrhoids are likely to become extremely painful. The pains are described in various ways by the patient, as boring, gnawing, [illegible] and even to some cases, an itching sensation [illegible].

One of the factors in the causing [illegible] is constipation. Physicians [illegible] that hemorrhoids may contribute to a large degree to what is called "pernicious anemia." Rectal irritation of this kind will often produce nervous symptoms, which may seem to have no connection with the rectal trouble. It is a patient is being bothered with an form of nervousness is imperative that all persons with rectum should be removed before a complete examination [illegible] of hemorrhoids although the [illegible] of an [illegible] is an important factor in the cause of rectal irritation of this kind. Hemorrhoids may also be found in those who are prolapsed, and in women having a history of having borne many children.

When hemorrhoids have reached the final stages, the patient may be able to help himself at home to a large extent by adopting measures which will correct constipation by the use of a local treatment consisting either [illegible] or [illegible] with corn-butter. As soon as all symptoms of [illegible] have disappeared, [illegible] to continue this [illegible] for if the patient does not [illegible] constipating diet and will other wise take good care of himself there will not be any return of the local trouble.

Once hemorrhoids have reached the intermediate stage, or the last [illegible] it is necessary [illegible] home treatment will be sufficient and I strongly advise that the patient [illegible] time for a visit to a physician. With modern methods of treatment it is usually possible to provide relief, and in many cases the condition has been neglected, and it is therefore unnecessary to suffer from the discomforts of hemorrhoids in this day and age.

All questions regarding health and diet will be answered. Large stamped, self-addressed envelope [illegible] Address: McCoy Health Service, The McCoy Building, 1521 West 6th Street, Los Angeles, Calif.

Norma Dever Pledges Vows

In an evening double-ring ceremony on Oct. 13 at St. Stephen's College Chapel, Edmonton, the Rev. J. P. Berry solemnized the marriage of Miss Norma Jean Dever of Beverly, and FO Jack Marshall Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Campbell, of St. Albert.

Escorted to the chapel with her father, the bride wore a gown of white lace fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and elbow-length sleeves, complemented by lace gloves. The skirt was full-fashioned and gathered at the waistline. Her fingertip veil of white tulle was held in place with a halo of white plumes and she carried a bouquet of red roses tied with streamers. Her only jewelry was a pearl set of bracelet, necklace and ring which her bridegroom gave her from Ceylon.

ATTENDS BRIDE

Miss Rose Didow was the bride's only attendant.

Best man was Flt.-Lt. Ellstock, RCAF, who was the bridegroom's pilot while overseas, and the guests were ushered by Allan Gibb. Mrs. Norma Berry played the wedding music before [illegible] during the signing of the register the soloist sang "Because."

40 GUESTS

After the wedding a reception was held to 40 guests at the home of Mme. P. A. Dion. Assisting with the bride's father was Mrs. Campbell, the mother of the bridegroom.

The bride's table was centred with a tiered wedding cake. N. Ross proposed the bridal toast. Presiding at the urns were Mrs. D. Ross and Mrs. [illegible]. Assisting were Miss [illegible] and Miss [illegible].

FO and Mrs. Campbell left later on a short honeymoon.

Among the out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. George Chant of Calgary, Mrs. Frank Sumner of Westlock, Bernie Gant of Ponoka, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Cuthbert of Smoky River, and Miss Evelyn Daby who arrived home from overseas the day of the wedding.

Police Find Traces Lost North Trapper

FORT ST. JOHN, B.C., Oct. 13—(CP)—An abandoned packsack and an axe near a timberline cabin at the remote headwaters of Manson Creek have been the only clues found by British Columbia police following a 12-mile search of the northland for Frank Johnson, 60-year-old trapper and prospector.

Further in their search for Johnson who had left his cabin Sept. 6 to go hunting grizzlies police discovered a starved pack dog riddled with porcupine quills. It had chewed moose and caribou hide coverings before falling victim to a porcupine.

Evidence along the trail showed Johnson had shot[illegible] grizzlies and [illegible] and another coming, a blizzard. Arrangements are [illegible] month with cold to aid in the [illegible].

Bulletin Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Every mother finds, as her baby grows stronger and more active that he is increasingly more difficult to dress. As she changes his innumerable diapers, he wriggles to the top of the bed swiftly while his mother hangs on with one hand, trying to pin on the dress of the diaper while he crawls.

Babies all do this, for it isn't to be expected that a child would have the same interest in the ceremony performed so many times a day, as his mother.

There is no use being mean about it, spanking him back or slapping him when he can be kept quiet by harnessing his interest. Babys always like boxes or jars with tops or lids on which they can take off and put on again. Keep one of these, a string of large buttons, or a few safety-pins linked together or a talcum-powder box or a cold-cream jar anything that is different from the usual toys, and hand it to the child when he is put on the bed for changing. Take it away when he is changed and put it back in its place. It is just to play with at diaper-changing time. Used in this way it will be continuously interesting and he'll be quiet while he examines it.

When baby is on his feet and can run away or wriggle and squirm while his clothes are being put on, try putting shirt, hose and shoes on while he sits in his toidy chair. Pop him into this, or into his high chair, when he first gets out of bed and take advantage of his imprisonment to get on as many clothes as possible.

When it is time to put on his outside clothes lift him onto a chair. It will be easier to dress him than if the mother had to stoop down to his level and it won't be encouragement to pull away if he is standing up high. He'll have sense enough to stay put.

Anyway these tasks can be accomplished conveniently to the mother and without punishment to the child is just that much gained. Punishment adds a still more unpleasant auira to them and the child can become so abstemperous as to make dressing him an impossible job for the mother.

Our leaflet No. 44 "Teaching Use of Cup and Spoon," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with this request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Army Rejections Neared 50 Per Cent.

OTTAWA, Oct. 19—(CP)—Mental retardation of temperamental instability stopped the reasons for rejections on medical grounds of prospective army personnel, it was disclosed yesterday in a return tabled in the Commons for Hon. Dr. H. A. Bruce (PC-Toronto Parkdale).

The army reported its total rejections were nearly 50 per cent—488 per 1,000 men examined. RCAF rejections were 20 per cent for aircrew and 15 per cent for ground crew. In the navy rejections were 10 per cent.

The army divided its rejection statistics into two periods. In the first—Jan. 1, 1942, to June 30, 1943 —rejections of general service personnel totaled 67,582 and amounted to 29.95 per cent. NRMA rejections—Oct. 9, 1940, to June 30, 1943—were 54,557 or 29.76 per cent.

In the second period—July 1, 1943 to May 31, 1945—general service rejections were 63,519 or 40.5 per cent and NRMA rejections 54,339 or 35.42.

Troops Restoring Order in Belgrade

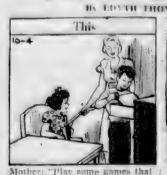

BELGRADE, Oct. 19—(AP)—A thousand militiamen were deployed through the city today to restore order following disorders yesterday during which crowds mobbed persons selling a book entitled "Demokratija" and burned the volumes in the street. Lt.-Gen. Sreten Zijovich, finance minister and commissioner of the National Front, said the demonstrators were unconnected with the Front.

Wartime Official Resigns From Post

OTTAWA, Oct. 19—(CP)—Resignation of William Percival, deputy controller of ship repairs and salvage and director of the shipbuilding branch of the Department of Munitions and Supply since 1941, was announced with regret yesterday by Munitions Minister Howe.

Debunker

The old idea that an "Indian giver" is one who gives you something, then expects you to give it back to him—this idea is all dunk, and in no way represents the way Indians actually give gifts. An assistant to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs of the U.S.A., once said that Indians are about the best givers in the world. He stated that "they love to give things away. It's part of their social code to be continually giving presents. They acquire merit in the eyes of their fellows not by accumulating property but by giving away what they have." This comes from a man who has spent most of his life working among the Indians.

Russian Claims To Baltic Lands Not Recognized

BERLIN, Oct. 19.—(AP)—The United States signed the war crimes indictment only after stipulating that she does not recognize Soviet claims to the Baltic states and "certain other territories", it was revealed today.

The stipulation was made by U.S. supreme court justice Robert H. Jackson, chief American prosecutor, in a letter addressed to the Soviet, French and British prosecutors and filed with the secretariat of the military trial court.

For her wedding the bride chose a mist blue afternoon frock complimented with black accessories and a corsage of American beauty roses. Her jewelry was a pearl necklace and a gold wrist watch, the latter a gift fo the bridegroom.

Mrs. Lee Ramsay, matron-of-honor, wore a rose silk afternoon frock with black accessories and a corsage of cream roses.

Arthur Melin was best man.

RECEPTION

After the ceremony a reception was held at the Royal George hotel for 30 guests. The bride's mother, receiving with the bridal party, wore a printed silk jersey frock with a corsage of red roses.

The bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake flanked by slender tapers and bowls of autumn flowers. Joseph Reed, uncle of the bride, proposed the bridal toast.

The couple is spending a honeymoon at Banff and for travelling the bride wore a wool dressmaker suit in a red tone with black accessories. Upon their return they will take up residence in Edmonton.

WED AT CENTRAL UNITED CHURCH—Mr. and Mrs. William Norman, the former Miss Ruth Louise Ramsay, who were married at Central United Church, Thursday evening. Mrs. Norman is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Ramsay, west Edmonton, and Mr Norman is the son of Andrew Norman and the late Mrs. Norman of Breton. The couple is spending a honeymoon at Banff and will later reside in Edmonton.

City Officer Weds Overseas

On July 17, at the Darlington Methodist church, Darlington, Eng., Miss Joyce Olive Stainthorpe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Stainthorpe, of Doncaster, became the bride of FO. Richard William Edmond, DFM, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Edmond of Edmonton. The Rev. M. Hobson officiated.

Entering the church on the arm of her father, the bride wore a gown of shell pink and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses. Her only jewelry was a topaz pendant, the gift of the bridegroom.

WEDDING ATTENDANTS

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride's table was centred with a four-tiered wedding cake, one tier of which came from Edmonton.

The couple spent a honeymoon at London, Hull, Doncaster and York. The bridegroom is at present in Edmonton, having recently received his discharge and the bride, who is still in England, will join her husband here later.

National Council Endorses Rationing

LONDON, Oct. 19.—(CP)—The National Council of Women adopted Thursday a resolution expressing willingness to accept any necessary cuts in already skimpy rations to feed the hungry millions of Europe.

The proposal for a time threatened to disrupt the council's Golden Jubilee conference, with one delegate asserting: "If we are going to say we are willing to have less rations it will mean that a good many people in Britain will have nothing at all."

A Briton's rations for a week are two ounces of butter, two ounces of lard, four ounces of margarine, three ounces of bacon, two ounces of cheese, eight ounces of sugar, three ounces of tea, about 22 cents worth of meat, small amounts of canned fish, cereals and crackers, one egg a week when it can be found, and bread, which is unrationed.

Dr. MacKinnon Addresses WMS

KNOX church WMS held its autumn thank-offering meeting in the church Thursday when the Rev. Dr. Murdoch MacKinnon of Robertson church was the guest speaker.

The Rev. Elgin G. Turnbull, pastor, led the devotional and Mrs. Adam Doobie was soloist with Mrs. Shaw at the piano.

Dr. MacKinnon reminded his audience of the many causes Canadians have for thanksgiving, especially for the fact that the war is over in a way that vindicates faith in a God of justice, righteousness and goodness. He said that war is not an evengelistic campaign but God is working in history and that history justifies the faith of the people in God. Due to the missionaries, the Christian church is being recognized as never before, and there is not a country in the world where missionaries will not be welcome, said Dr. MacKinnon.

City Wren Becomes Bride

Autumn tinted chrysanthemums decorated McDougall United church for the wedding on Thursday at 7:30 p.m. of Miss Gladys Ethel Danwoodie, daughter of Mrs. H. [illegible] Danwoodie and the late Mr. Dan[illegible]woodie, and James David Veitch, RCAF, son of Mrs. James B. Veitch of [illegible], Ont., and the late Mr. Veitch. The Rev. D. A. K. McMann performed the ceremony. Mrs. Reginald Baily played the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her brother, W. [illegible] Danwoodie, the bride wore a gown of white georgette fashioned with a full skirt and a bodice having a sweetheart neckline, long sleeves and tiny buttons down the back. Her finger-tip veil was held in place with a white feather headdress and she carried a bouquet of red roses. Her only jewelry was pearl necklace, a gift of the bridegroom.

MATRON OF HONOR

Matron-of-honor was the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. W. H. Danwoodie, who wore a pink sheer gown having a fitted bodice with a round neckline and long sleeves. A pink feather headdress held her pink chapel veil in place and she carried a bouquet of deep pink carnations.

Best man was Pte. Robert Danwoodie.

Mrs. Danwoodie chose for her daughter's wedding a navy and white ensemble, navy accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

After the ceremony a reception for 30 guests was held at the Cottage Tea Room, where the bride's table was centred with three-tiered wedding cake and decorated with pink and white baby chrysanthemums, lighted with tapers to match.

The couple left for Ottawa for a honeymoon, the bride travelling in a rose frock, grey chesterfield coat and black accessories. The couple will take up residence in Toronto. The bridegroom, who was a corporal in the RCAF, has received his discharge and the bride who is a Wren, is stationed at Ottawa.

Beauty Parlor Code Proposal Draws Protest

A [illegible] of [illegible] against the [illegible] of some Alberta beauty parlor operators for an [illegible] code to govern that industry is expected as a result of meetings of women's organizations to be held next week.

The women of the [illegible] are generally patrons of the beauty parlors and fear that the restrictions which would be imposed by the code would mean higher prices and restricted opportunities for girls who wish to enter the business, particular emphasis being placed on the difficulties such a code would place in the road of girls newly discharged from the services.

TRADE COMMITTEE

The trade committee of the local Council of Women investigated the proposed legislation, which is being explained by personnel of the department of trade and industry to the beauty parlor operators this week.

A meeting of the Council of Women will be held next Thursday and the proposals advanced by the government and by the operators will be thoroughly discussed.

One of the clauses in the suggested measure would not permit the advertising of beauty parlor prices and those who have made a survey of the industry in this province and in British Columbia are strongly of the belief that the code in the coast province has resulted in higher prices and poorer workmanship. An Edmonton observer also stated that the application of the code in B.C. had resulted in many operators leaving the industry.

That a hairdressers' bill introduced in the legislature in 1939 had received strong and vigorous protests throughout the province was recalled by one prominent Edmonton club woman.

Mrs. Edwards To Entertain

The Rev. George M. Edwards, the new minister of Strathcona Baptist church, and Mrs. Edwards, will hold a reception at the parsonage on Friday from 3 until 6 and from 8 until 10 p.m.

Receiving with Mrs. Edwards in the afternoon will be Mrs. G. F. McNally and Mrs. W. H. Reed. Pouring in the afternoon will be Mrs. G. E. H. Smith, Mrs. James Toller, Mrs. Arthur Gainer and Mrs. R. Schilke. Serving in the afternoon will be Mrs. Chester Gainer and Mrs. Cyril Stone.

In the evening the Rev. and Mrs. Edwards will be assisted in receiving by Dr. and Mrs. G. F. McNally. Presiding at the tea urns will be Mrs. H. Flanagan, Mrs. S. D. Trites, Mrs. L. K. Daniels, Mrs. W. C. Smalley and Mrs. Daniel Young. Assisting will be Mrs. H. [illegible] and Mrs. Stone.

Members of the Fidelis club and the Mabelle Gainer Mission Circle will serve. Red gladioli and red and white tapers will centre the tea table.

Calendar

The American Women's Service Club has disbanded and will not hold any more meetings.

Miss Betty Cull of Lethbridge is holidaying in Edmonton and Calgary.

DANCE CONVENER.—Miss Marian Finn, president of the Wauneita Society, who is in charge of arrangements for the society's formal dance, the first university dance for the term which will be held in the RCAF Drill hall Oct. 26. Rod Cook's orchestra will play for dancing. Patrons and patronesses will be Dr. and Mrs. W. Johns, Miss H. McIntyre, Miss M. Faunt and Dr. and Mrs. J. Macdonald. It is the custom that the girls, all members of the Wauneita Society, invite the men escorts to this affair. The dance is semi-formal: long dresses for the ladies, semi-formal attire for the men, and no corsages.

Capt. Gilchrist Takes Bride

McDougall United church was the scene of a wedding Wednesday morning, when Miss Louisa Mary Dafoe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Dafoe of Coronation, became the bride of Alexander Anderson Gilchrist, a former captain in the Loyal Edmonton Regiment, son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Gilchrist of Edmonton. The Rev. A. K. McMann officiated.

For her wedding the bride chose an aqua blue [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] accessories and a small brown felt hat trimmed with veiling. A corsage of red roses completed her ensemble.

BRIDE'S SISTER

Miss Patricia Dafoe, sister of the bride, was attendant. She wore a [illegible] rose wool frock accented with black accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses.

Major Richard Crawley was best man.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilchrist left later for a wedding trip to Calgary and points south. For travelling the bride wore a brown suit with a matching topcoat. Upon their return they will take up residence in Edmonton.

Available Jobs Nearing Figure Of Unemployed

OTTAWA, Oct. 19.—(CP)—Unemployment figures are closely approaching the number of available jobs in Canada and postwar work projects are required in the Maritimes to relieve unemployment, the labor department said last night in a summary of employment conditions.

The department reported that by Oct. 9 the number of available jobs had dropped to 145,600, a reduction of 10,500 from two weeks previous, while the unplaced workers had risen to 133,000, an increase of 8,000.

The department attributed the increase in unplaced workers partially to a speed-up in demobilization of the forces. Comparing the figures announced last night with a similar report on conditions July 20 showed that the number of unfilled jobs had gone up by 19,000 but the number of unemployed had increased 85,000.

FIGURES GIVEN

In 17 leading industrial centres the number of job vacancies, with the number of unplaced workers in brackets, at Oct. 5, was: Halifax, 2,797 (871); Saint John, 941 (846); Montreal, 19,494 (26,714); Quebec, 2,701 (1,503); Toronto, 21,991 (15,043); Hamilton, 4,702 (5,331); Kitchener, 1,355 (185); London, 1,642 (1,193); Ottawa, 2,231 (1,155); Windsor, 519 (4,068); Winnipeg, 4,338 (5,806); Saskatoon, 808 (805); Regina, 1,016 (806); Edmonton, 2,047 (1,466); Calgary, 1,641 (1,831); Vancouver, 7,679 (12,066); Victoria, 2,105 (1,562).

For the Dominion by regions: Maritime, 11,385 (8,076); Quebec, 44,227 (49,002); Ontario, 54,278 (42,821); Prairies, 22,141 (18,506); Pacific, 13,554 (16,694).

"Meet the Navy" Will Be Screened

ELSTREE, Hertfordshire, England, Oct. 19.—(CP)—Here in the heart of Britain's Hollywood the National Film Studios yesterday became the good ship "Ebor" as 290 Royal Canadian Navy men and women began work on the screen version of the stage success "Meet The Navy."

The all-Navy show broke records throughout Canada, Britain and continental Europe, running for a season at the London Hippodrome. During its filming National Studios will be run as a ship, strict naval discipline being enforced.

Bidding for the film rights has been brisk since the show opened. Executive Producer Louis H. Jackson, managing director of National Studios has handed over a cheque to Capt. Barry Gorman fo Ottawa, chief of the Canadian Naval Mission overseas who represented the Canadian high commissioners.

This was an advance payment on part of the movie profits, the bulk of which—which it is estimated will approximately be $1,000,000—will be presented to the Canadian Navy Benevolent Trust for widows and orphans.

During the show's British tour, all profits were donated by Canada to the King George Fund for sailors and merchant seamen.

Report on Co-Ops. In Printers' Hands Minister States

OTTAWA, Oct. 19.—(CP)—Justice Minister St. Laurent said yesterday in the Commons copies of the report of the Royal Commission on Co-operatives' taxation could not be made available to members of the house until the report was printed, perhaps in about three weeks. There were only two copies. One was in the hands of the printers and the other in the possession of finance department experts who were studying it and preparing recommendations. The report was 417 pages long. John Bracken, Progressive Conservative leader, had asked Wednesday that copies be made available to himself and other party leaders before continuance of the budget debate.

Say America Needs Defence Outposts For Own Protection

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(CP)—Sir Norman Angell, Nobel Peace Prize winner, in an article in the November issue of the American Mercury, says the United States needs for her own security, such bases as Britain and Australia.

The article, headed "America Needs a Strong England," said "The fundamental reasons for (the United States) giving economic aid to Britain are political. America needs, for her own security and world peace, the kind of 'base' or fortress which Britain and British-held strong points and British Dominions like Australia have already proved to be in two world wars waged by America to preserve her freedom and her soil from the scourge of invasion."

Three Per Cent. Of Servicemen Lose Gratuities

OTTAWA, Oct. 19. — (CP) — Brig. C. B. Topp, OBE, DSO, MC and Bar, chairman of the board of review of the War Service Grants Act, said today at least 97 per cent of all services personnel got their war services gratuities without trouble because of the nature of their discharges.

Continuing before the Commons Veterans Committee his resume of the board's role and work he added that this meant only about three per cent forfeited their gratuities because of dishonorable discharges.

He cited the case of an air force officer discharged by courtmartial for low flying who re-enlisted immediately as a flight sergeant. Thus he would receive no gratuity for the first enlistment but he would for the second, in which he had given good service.

PLAN AMENDMENTS

A Veterans Department legal official said proposed amendments would give the board power to refuse gratuity to any veteran, regardless of the nature of his discharge, and also with the approval of the treasury board—to grant any veteran his gratuity regardless of how he has been discharged.

Maj. Fulton (PC—Kamloops) said he felt it wasn't the intention of the committee to pass such amendments.

Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, VC (PC—Nanaimo) felt discharges for misdemeanors or misdemeanor should not come before the board at all. The men should get their gratuities.

ENOUGH PENALTY

E. B. McKay (CCF—Weyburn) felt the dishonorable discharge in all cases was enough penalty. It was not necessary to add the loss of gratuity.

Capt. Walter Tucker, parliamentary assistant to Veterans Minister Mackenzie and chairman of the committee, said that army personnel authorities will be heard from at tomorrow's meeting.

Pair From Alberta Together Throughout Entire Service

By E. R. HORTON

Edmonton Bulletin Staff Reporter

Night and day for more than two weeks, the 13th Field Artillery Regiment had pounded enemy positions over the Moro river in Italy, according to Gnr. T. McGhee of Newbrook, and Lt.-Bdr. A. J. McKilligan, of Bentley, who had been together from the time they landed in England until their cross roading in the 52nd Battery for the purpose of coming home.

Both men were passengers on the CNR special train which arrived in Edmonton Thursday afternoon.

After they had landed in England in November, 1942, they had both been posted to the 7th Field Battery in the 2nd Field Regiment, and had remained with that unit until peace came while they were in Holland.

Their field regiment had been in support of the First Canadian Infantry Brigade, the Royal Canadian Regiment, the 48th Highlanders and the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment, behind which units landed in Sicily and followed right through the Italian campaign and into Holland and Belgium.

Their battery had taken up a position on the Lamont River one dark night in Italy, they said, but when the dawn came they found that they were a scant 800 yards away from the enemy German machine-gunners and riflemen took prompt advantage of their embarrassing position, and gunners found that they could put one their weapons, since they couldn't get to them under the small arms fire.

Though it was not unusual for them to see rifle and machine gun bullets bounce off their gun shields in normal action, when night again fell the guns were moved to an area where the enemy could not hamper their operation so easily.

Canadian Births Reveal Increase

OTTAWA, Oct. 19.—(CP)—Births registered in cities, towns and villages of Canada with a population of 10,000 or over totalled 11,302 in August this year, an increase of one per cent over the 11,202 births recorded in the same month of 1944, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday. The bureau report showed deaths in August totalled 4,578 compared with 4,350 in the same month a year ago, a decrease of four per cent while marriages for the month totalled 3,475 compared with 4,794 in August, 1944, an increase of 11 per cent.

Montreal Unionists Critical of Budget

MONTREAL, Oct. 19. — CP — The Montreal Labor Council, at a statement ... federal budget brought down in the House of Commons last Friday, shows "further unwarranted concessions to employer interests which seek for selfish ends to negate reconversion policies necessary for the well-being of the country as a whole. UNIQUE SCHOOL OPERATED IN OTTAWA BY RUSSIAN EMBASSY FOR EMPLOYEES' CHILDREN

Thirty-five students attend the school in Ottawa operated by the Soviet embassy for its employees' children. First lesson for beginners is the Russian alphabet. Pictures illustrate the meaning of many English words. Here, Madame A. N. Nesterenko holds a picture of an owl while first-grade children pronounce the word. The school is an old-fashioned, converted private home. Unlike schools in Russia, no cadet training is given. Conduct of classes is just as formal as in larger schools.

This is Inna, seven, one of the 35 pupils. Director of the school is Tatyana Mihailovna Strelkova, a Russian war widow. English is taught in all grades. With few pupils, advancement is rapid as each student is given individual help with his or her problems.

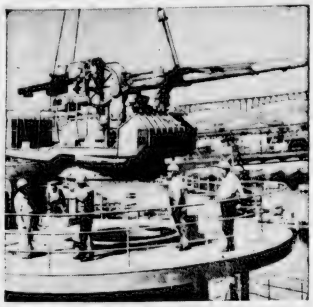

COMES HOME.—After an absence of 10 years, Lady Charles Cavendish has returned to her native U.S.A. She's best remembered as Adele Astaire, Fred Astaire's sister and one-time dancing partner. She plans to stay in the U.S. for eight months, then return to her 200-room Irish castle.

POST-WAR BEAVER LAUNCHED—First of four new fast freighters being built for the Canadian Pacific Steamships replacing the five "Beaver" class vessels lost by the company during the war, the Beaverdell was christened at her launching recently by Mrs. D. C. Coleman, wife of the chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Here Mrs. Coleman prepares to break the bottle of champagne over the bow as Sir James Lithgow (left) of Lithgow's yard at Fort Glasgow who built the new Beaver, and Mr. Coleman, in his capacity of chairman and director of Canadian Pacific Steamships Limited, look on.

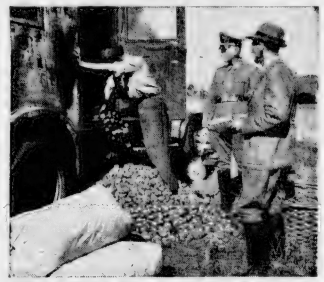

SUES FOR $100,000.—Al Jennings, convicted Oklahoma bank robber, points between sessions in the trial of his $100,000 defamation suit in a Los Angeles court against the Don Lee Broadcasting Co. and the sponsor of the Lone Ranger programs. Jennings, now an evangelist and lecturer, charges a radio play a year ago falsely portrayed him as seeking to induce a 17-year-old boy to join his gang.

GUNS OFF AS PEACE RETURNS—Symbolic of the return of peace was the removal, pictured above, of a 5-inch gun—the size used in the main batteries of destroyers—from a nearly completed cargo vessel in U.S. Steel's Federal Shipyard at Kearney, N.J. In all, more than 200 tons of armaments were taken off, to provide that much more room for peacetime cargoes.

GERMAN POLICE HELP CHECK BLACK MARKET—With the help of a German police officer, an official of the Military Government in Germany halts a truckload of potatoes in the outskirts of Hamburg during a campaign to prevent this vital food from reaching the flourishing black market. In a single day, more than 5,000 kilos of potatoes were confiscated to combat the black market.

LIBERATED CANADIANS NOW HOMEWARD BOUND—Fully re-outfitted with Canadian uniforms including their service ribbons and the Hong Kong battle patch, some 400 ex-Canadian internees from Japanese prison camps and recently arrived at Gordon Head R.C.A.S.F. started the last lap of their journey homeward from Vancouver when they crossed from Victoria to the mainland by steamer and boarded trains for their homes across the Dominion. At top part of the Canadian contingent is shown marching to the station at Victoria with Lt.-Col. John H. Price, Quebec, of the Royal Rifles of Canada, leading the parade. A group of Royal Rifles officers are shown below studying a signpost which indicates a spot which has bitter memories for them—Hong Kong, 5,000 miles—now far behind them. Left to right in the group are Capt. W. P. LeBoutillier, Ottawa; Lt.-Col. J. H. Price, Quebec; Major C. A. Young, Quebec; Lt. W. B. Bradley, Quebec; Lt. C. A. Fraser, Toronto, and Capt. W. F. Clarke of Tudor City, N.Y.

TWINS TREK FOR HOME—Cpl. G. Peterson and Pte. M. A. Peterson, twin brothers of St. Vital, Man., are seen as they stepped from a train that bore them from San Francisco to Vancouver recently. The brothers sailed for Hong Kong together on October 27, 1941, were captured together on Christmas Day '41 and shared the horrors of Japanese prisons.

MINISTER OF WAR IN CHAMBERLAIN GOVERNMENT VISITS CANADA—Leslie Hore-Belisha and his wife are shown during a visit to Toronto. Mrs. Hore-Belisha spent some years in a German prison camp where she nursed British soldiers. Canadian food cheers them. Mr. Hore-Belisha was minister of war in the Chamberlain government.

FOR SWIMMING.—Hollywood Republic Studios starlet Adele Mara shows what an attractive swim suit can be when its design is based upon the gayer principle.

FIND IT HARD TO GET TO SLEEP? TRY SOME OF THESE SUGGESTIONS

Eat a light snack before retiring, or do a dozen push-ups, but don't get in the habit of taking sleeping tablets. That's the advice of medical men. Friend on the phone with a nice soothing voice is another suggestion for inducing sleep. But pray tell us, fair maiden, who helps put the friend to sleep?

Brain fag after a big day at the office is supposed to disappear after a light snack at bedtime. Not a "Dagwood" though. This will keep her awake for days. A warm bath, or a warm drink as a means of coaxing sleep to come on are advised. If insomnia bothers you, medical men say to read a book, but not a tale that will terrorize you

TODAY'S MARKETS

Toronto Stocks

TORONTO, Oct. 19. — (CP) — The market tone turned moderately soft in the afternoon period today on the Toronto Exchange and the mining groups and western oils finished on the down side. Industrials were well up at noon but part of the gains were dropped in the late period of weakness. Volume tapered off as prices slipped and turnover for the day was about 2,500,000 shares.

Rye Prices Weak In Winnipeg Pits

WINNIPEG, Oct. 19—(CP)—Rye futures prices on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today showed considerable weakness breaking more than three cents under commission house selling as well as offerings by local account and American interests which found support thin.

At the close prices were 3-2⅛ lower with Oct. $1.68⅛b; Dec. $1.65⅛-⅛; May $1.65⅛b and July $1.59⅞-⅞.

Export business was confined to sale of a cargo of 300,000 bushels of wheat for relief shipment to Europe.

LONDON STOCKS

LONDON, Oct. 19—(Reuters)—In response to the British government's decision to lower rates of interest, the stock market today was firmer and activity was slightly increased. The advance, however, was mainly due to precautionary marking up rather than great expansion in business.

Gilt-edged securities gained up to ⅛ while industrials were widely higher. Contrary to the general upward trend bank shares eased.

A revival of interest among British railways made them occasionally ¼ higher, while international dollar stocks ruled firm in unison with higher Wall street advices, although they reacted near the close and registered little chance.

GEORGE J. JESSOP

B. A. NEALE

CPR HOTEL CHANGES—Manager of the historic Chateau Frontenac in Quebec city for 19 of his 37 years' service with the Canadian Pacific Railway, B. A. Neale has retired to be succeeded by George J. Jessop, assistant manager of the hotel. Announcing the retirement of the man who was the CPR's host at two history-making conferences between Winston Churchill and Franklin D. Roosevelt, H. F. Mathews, general manager of the company's hotels, described Mr. Jessop as Mr. Neale's right hand man at both meetings which gave the Frontenac the name of the "conference hotel." Mr. Jessop began his career under Mr. Neale and served at the Royal York, Toronto, and the Place Viger, Montreal. For one year he served in the department of catering and messing in National Defence headquarters at Ottawa with the rank of major.

Tortures Revealed

Real 'Warming Up' Given RAF Prisoners by Nazis

HAMBURG, Oct. 19.—(Reuters)—"Warming up" captured RAF fliers was "quite common" with German intelligence officers during the war, an RAF officer said today as preparations went ahead for trial in the Ruhr next week of five members of the German intelligence service on atrocity charges.

The five are accused of turning heat on RAF prisoners as they lay on the floors of their cells. Pilots subjected to the torture will testify at the trial.

The RAF officer said:

"German intelligence officers used to masquerade as Red Cross men. They went into the cells and asked questions which, if answered, were of assistance to the enemy. . . .

"When the pseudo Red Cross men left the cells after their failure they pressed a heat button which raised the temperature in the cell to an unbearable degree. The pilots were gradually compelled to strip themselves naked and lie on the floor.

"The Nazi torturers had to force the cell doors open as often these poor fellows had collapsed with their heads pressed against the gap between the door and the floor in an attempt to get air."

Several airmen were believed killed by this torture.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, Oct. 19—(AP)—Assorted liquors, steels, motors and specialties operated at new bull market highs for a while today but many leading stocks acted as though they were suffering from fatigue after their lengthy climb and late selling undermined virtually all departments.

Fur Buyer's Body Brought to City

The body of Albert Hingley, 60-year-old fur buyer and farmer of the Athabasca district who was found dead in his shack five miles northeast of the northern town, has been brought to Edmonton for an autopsy examination, according to RCMP headquarters here.

RCMP said the autopsy will be performed by Dr. John Macgregor, pathologist.

Hingley's charged body, burned beyond recognition, was found on Thursday by two residents of the district, Paquette and Lumiey. Cpl. J. Pooke of the Athabasca RCMP detachment, carried out a preliminary investigation.

The RCMP investigation is continuing.

To Settle Veterans In Wanham District

First veterans to be settled under the Alberta land scheme will be at Wanham, in the Peace River country, and a start will be made next month at clearing and breaking between 10,000 and 12,000 acres, it was stated Friday by Hon. N. E. Tanner, minister of lands and mines.

This decision was reached Friday morning at a meeting of the board of trustees, consisting of Mr. Tanner, Hon. D. Bruce MacMillan, minister of agriculture, and a representative of Hartman Brothers, Seattle, clearing and breaking contractors.

This work which was to have been begun this month has been delayed by difficulty in securing the necessary equipment, but it will be commenced at the earliest possible November date and continued as far into the winter as weather permits.

The Wanham area has been selected for initial settlement of 30 odd veterans because of its railway and highway facilities, each settler being allotted 320 acres.

Legion Decides to Form Sixty-Piece Brass Band

Edmonton Branch No. 24 of the Canadian Legion, BESL, already celebrated for its fine pipe band, is expanding in things musical with the decision Thursday to form a 60-piece brass band.

Formation of the brass band was decided on at a regular meeting of the Legion executive committee.

T. V. Newlove, city schoolmaster, renowned for his fine work in organizing and directing the senior and junior Edmonton Schoolboys' bands, has offered his services to direct the new Legion band at the outset. Mr. Newlove was present at the executive meeting.

Although the first step officially toward organizing the band was taken Thursday some enthusiastic musicians in the Legion have already been holding practices and the band, replete with bright uniforms, will soon be seen and heard leading Edmonton military parades.

The following were appointed to a committee in charge of the band:

Second Vice-President J. C. Macdonald; Percy Cowley and R. Walter McLaren.

NEW APPOINTMENT.—Charles L. Gundy who has been appointed a vice-president of Wood, Gundy & Company Limited. Mr. Gundy returned from overseas in September, having served as a major with the British Army General Staff in the Middle East following service in Scotland. Mr. Gundy joined Wood, Gundy & Company, Limited, in 1926 and has been associated with the organization in various offices throughout Ontario, Western Canada and London, England. Prior to entering the army he occupied the position of sales manager at head office in Toronto.

Budget Debate

profits tax, immediately action be taken to clear away uncertainties and confusion.

No business man would dare come before a board of directors with a statement such as the budget. He would be sent back to prepare another. That would not be impossible.

Although the information was not given Mr. Macdonnell said he believed the finance department could now predict the time when expenditures and taxation could be expected to come together so that parliament could form a judgment.

"NATIONAL INDUSTRY"

"Sometimes one even wonders if the government has not come to regard borrowing as a great national industry," he said.

The taxpayers, however, were worried and wanted to know when borrowing would stop. It had to stop sometime or the lenders would quit because of uncertainty as to whether they would get their money back.

Experience elsewhere showed what happened when borrowing went on until government credit was gone and resort was had to the printing press for money. The consequences were:

"1. Rapidly rising prices.

"2. Frantic and unsuccessful attempts at control.

"3. Black markets which work gross unfairness to low income groups.

"4. Uncontrollable inflation causing indescribable suffering to all, but particularly to the low income groups."

Some of the difficulties Mr. Ilsley experienced in framing the budget were inevitable, but one at least was the government's own fault. That was the embarrassment caused through having no post-war financial arrangement with the provinces.

OF LONG STANDING

The problem had been staring the government in the face for five years and could have been tackled at any time since 1942 when the tide of war turned.

"Even with the tax relief which has been given to it business, unless it is rapidly freed from controls, will be gravely handicapped in doing its job of production," said Mr. Macdonnell.

Multiplication of controls had made it hard for taxpayers to get at the real cost, both direct and indirect. The prices board had 13 head office divisions each with a chief, comptroller or a director, a number of associated companies and a number of "coordinations" and "administrations."

"Controls are like rabbits," he said. "They breed. The only control we lack is a control whose job is to do away with all the other controls."

DECISION NEEDED

On the best estimate of the national income a decision should be made on how much of that income the state could safely take. Then an "heroic effort" should be made to keep expenditures within that amount.

In making the decision a basic principle was that production depended on individuals working in an economy with the maximum amount of freedom and with the incentive of profit. Conditions had to be created to keep production at the highest possible level. Taxation must make available a reasonable expectation of profit. Mr. Ilsley had understated the case when he spoke of the excess profits tax stifling initiative.

The tax has "stimulated extravagance, has blunted efficiency, has frustrated energy, has created endless uncertainties and bogged down both tax collector and taxpayer with a multitude of returns and calculations."

Mr. Macdonnell said he found it "rather astonishing" that Mr. Ilsley retained the tax but since that was the decision urged that, to promote efficiency and the growth of new enterprises, efforts be made to clear away" as much as possible of the whole jungle of technicalities and uncertainties."

RELIEF NEGLIGIBLE

Relief given to the small taxpayer was "so small as to be almost negligible in the current year." He urged consideration for more of it. It was unjust to deny a man access to his money when he was in financial difficulties. Hence he urged a refund of compulsory savings when application was made for unemployment insurance.

Tax laws were not clear. The business community was "thwarted, frustrated, discouraged, enraged by the delays, the uncertainties and the arbitrariness of the tax-collecting machinery.

"The Income Tax Act was 30 years old. Amendment had piled on amendment and it was unscientific to begin with. There was too little decentralization. Too much discretion was left to the minister who was in the position of being "virtually policeman, judge, jury and court of appeal all in one."

DRASTIC TREATMENT

"The situation cries out for drastic treatment," he said. "Any private organization run as this department is run would, of course, have been bankrupt long ago and would have given place to efficient competitors but this is a government enterprise.

Reasons given by Mr. Ilsley for delay in overhauling the machinery were inadequate.

Unless Canada could replace the foreign trade which was ending with the war immediate prospects were not good. Employment in Canada always followed the course of foreign trade.

We should do everything in our power to free the channel of world trade," he said, "and in particular to facilitate the success of the conversions at present going on between Britain and the United States. If the world is divided into trading blocs—A British or sterling bloc and a U.S. or dollar bloc—it would be just too bad for this country.

INTEREST IS CLEAR

"Our interest is clear. We should try to work for multilateral trade and against regionalism.

"It is terribly important to us that trade should move as freely as possible everywhere and particularly between Britain and the United States.

"In answer to the natural fear of Britain and the United States may even yet not have learned that trade is a two-way street, we should seek to persuade Britain that the dangers of a regionalized world with the United States competing aggressively for a body of trade which by reason of trade barriers will of necessity be smaller and will be most injurious to Britain.

"Further we should be prepared, as a surplus country, to grant credit generously to Britain and other countries both for humanitarian reasons and on the basis that it is good business to finance good prospective customers."

It was to individuals of initiative and courage that the country had to look for the creation of new businesses and jobs. Not many had these qualities. Most wanted someone to provide them with a job. New businesses were needed every year. Some of them failed. The organizers took the losses.

"But when they succeed the first people to benefit are those who get jobs," he said. "They get their money first. Second, comes taxes for the state. Third, money to keep up the business, and fourth, if there is anything left over, the shareholders get a dividend."

NOTHING ANTI-SOCIAL

There was nothing anti-social about profit. Profit came into disrepute when it was inordinate, and more so when earned by large corporations but taxation could take care of that. When there was profit there was production, wages, taxes, money to keep up plants.

"The state must create an atmosphere favorable to enterprise," he said. "It must encourage the enterpriser, but it must also encourage the workers.

"In these difficult days one of the great needs is to create a good atmosphere throughout the country to help the great task of reconversion. What we want is plain, candid truth—no concealing of difficulties, no Pollyana talk, no auto-suggestion, no make-believe."

Western Lines Appeals Ruling By Air Board

Already established with a connection at Lethbridge with Canadian air lines, Western Air Lines, with head offices in Los Angeles, has appealed against a recent decision of the U.S. Civil Aeronautics Board turning down Western's application to fly by way of Great Falls, Lethbridge and Edmonton to Alaska.

In a brief filed recently with the Aeronautics Board, Western Air Lines point out it is not taking exception to the board's recommendation that Northwest Air Lines be permitted to fly to the Orient by way of Chicago and Edmonton.

BASIS OF PROTEST

The protest hinges on the contention that post-war traffic volume from Great Falls to Alaska will be such as to justify competition between the two U.S. lines.

It is claimed that such competition is in the public interest.

Officials of the company point to Western's record of safety over the route as a wartime carrier and the special commendation of Brig.-Gen. Dale V. Gaffney, commanding general of the Alaskan Division of the USAAF Air Transport Command that:

"Its service is one to be studied to be believed."

At the present time Western Air Lines operate regular daily services in both directions between Los Angeles, Salt Lake City, Great Falls and Lethbridge, where connections are made for Canadian passengers travelling to and from U.S. centres along the route.

FURTHER PROTEST

A further protest is made to the U.S. board because of denial of Western's application for a route up the coast through Seattle to Alaska in favor of Alaska Air Lines.

Clothing Drive Support Urged By China Envoy

The long struggle for human freedom has at last come to an end. The whole world is rejoicing at the return of peace, but still people are confronted with the grim scene of tens of millions of residents in the liberated countries who have been made destitute by the war and are on the brink of death for lack of food, shelter, clothing and medical care.

The winter that is approaching would certainly be the worst and most ghastly in the annals of mankind were we not to take immediate steps to alleviate the suffering.

WORDS OF ENVOY

These were the words of Dr. Liu Shih-Shun, Chinese ambassador to Canada, in urging the people of Canada to get whole-heartedly behind the national clothing collection, which has been in progress since Oct. 1 and ends Monday. With the deadline near officials urge that all donations be brought to headquarters as soon as possible.

Dr. Liu went on to say that "the clothing drive represents a noble effort toward the goal of ending this suffering," and as representative in Canada of the country which fought longer than any other of the United Nations, and where more people are suffering, he appeals to Canadians "to lend a helping hand to the drive and make it a success."

Headquarters of the drive in Edmonton are in the Thompson-Bradburn Block.

Several million pounds of used clothing are expected to be collected in Canada as a result of this drive and it will be shipped immediately to those countries where the need is greatest.

Govt. Delegation Going to Parley

An Alberta delegation headed by Hon. N. E. Tanner, minister of lands and mines, will go to Toronto next month to attend the conference of the inter-provincial committee of mines ministers on Nov. 22.

The minister will be accompanied by John Harvie, deputy minister; C. Stubbs, Calgary, secretary-commissioner for the Western Canada Coal Operators' Association, and John Galloway, Calgary, representative of Standard Oil of California.

Business to be taken up at the committee meeting, principally matters of taxation, mining regulations and depletion of allowances, was reviewed by the Alberta sub-committee at an all-day meeting Thursday.

Meat Rationing Boosts Poultry

Rationing of meat is giving a boost to the poultry industry, it was disclosed at the Friday session of the Alberta Poultry Federation, meeting in the legislative buildings.

It was predicted by officials that the egg export market is sufficiently encouraging that it may even tax the capacity of Canadian poultry yards to meet the demand of the British market.

Friday morning a special meeting of record of performance breeders, hatcherymen and approved flock owners was addressed by A. D. Davey, assistant chief in charge of ROP and hatchery approval policy, and by Prof. Paul Bernier, assistant chief of the breeding program.

Friday afternoon the Federation delegates visited the Oliver farm.

KELLER—In loving memory of John Keller who passed away October 19, 1943.

We saw you fading like a flower,
But could not make you stay;
We nursed you with tender kindness
Until God called you away.
Oh, father dear, we loved you,
And our hearts ache for you still;
Forgotten by us you never will.

Striking Dock Workers Spurn Council's Order

Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

LONDON, Oct. 19.—(BUP)—Striking British dock workers defied an ultimatum today from the National Joint Council for the port industry that they must resume work before negotiations can be started on their demands.

Dockers met this morning and speakers denounced "those officials at Transport House whom we do not trust."

Angered by the ultimatum, the dockers expressed greater determination to remain out until their demands for 25 shillings ($5) a day and 40-hour guaranteed week were met.

PUBLIC PROTEST

At the conclusion of the mass meeting the dockers decided to start a public protest meeting on Tower Hill which is overlooked by the ancient Tower of London.

A long procession began the six-mile march to the hill under an escort of police immediately called to guard against violence.

Dockers from other ports joined the procession as it passed through London's east end.

Labor Minister George Isaacs confirmed in Commons that both sides of the joint industrial council broke up a negotiating meeting because of the large number of men on strike.

Isaacs condemned the "rebel" dock strikers and said their action could not be defended.

He said the government would not intervene "yet" but would watch proceedings to insure against delay in reaching a conclusion.

Meanwhile, it was reported that government and military authorities are considering the use of more troops to handle incoming and outgoing cargoes.

Ottawa Gives Complete List War Losses of Canadian Navy

OTTAWA, Oct. 19.—(CP)—The Navy issued yesterday a list of 24 Canadian warships lost through enemy action or marine hazards during the war, in many cases disclosing for the first time the date or place of sinking which had been withheld from publication for security reasons.

In addition to the ships listed, seven Canadian motor torpedo boats were sunk during the invasion of France.

The list follows, with the identity of each ship and the date, place and cause of sinking:

1940

June 25.—Fraser, destroyer, collided with HMS Calcutta at the entrance to Gironde river in the Bay of Biscay.

Nov. 19.—Bras d'Or, auxiliary minesweeper, foundered in the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

Nov. 22.—Margaree, destroyer, collided with motor vessel Port Fairy in North Atlantic.

1941

March 26.—Otter, auxiliary service yacht, fire off Halifax.

Sept. 19.—Levis, corvette, torpedoed in North Atlantic.

Dec. 7.—Windflower, corvette, collided with steamship Zypenberg in North Atlantic.

1942

Feb. 10.—Spikenard, corvette, torpedoed in North Atlantic.

Sept. 7.—Raccoon, auxiliary service yacht, probably torpedoed in Gulf of St. Lawrence.

Sept. 11.—Charlottetown, corvette, torpedoed in Gulf of St. Lawrence.

Sept. 13.—Ottawa, destroyer, torpedoed in North Atlantic.

1943

Feb. 6.—Louisburg, corvette, aerial torpedo in Mediterranean.

Feb. 22.—Weyburn, corvette, presumably sunk by mine at entrance to Straits of Gibraltar, but aircraft sighted U-boat in close proximity at the time.

Sept. 20.—St. Croix, destroyer, torpedoed in North Atlantic.

September.—Chedabucto, Bangor minesweeper, collided with cable ship Lord Kelvin in St. Lawrence river.

May 7.—Valleyfield, frigate, torpedoed off Cape Race, Nfld.

Aug. 8.—Regina, corvette, torpedoed or mined in South Bristol channel.

Aug. 21.—Alberni, corvette, torpedoed or mined in English channel.

Oct. 25.—Skeena, destroyer, lost after being dragged ashore on Videy Island, off Reykjavik, Iceland, in strong gale.

Nov. 24 or 25.—Shawinigan, corvette, lost, probably by enemy action, in Cabot Strait.

Dec. 24.—Clayoquot, Bangor minesweeper, torpedoed off Halifax.

Feb. 22.—Trentonian, corvette, torpedoed near Falmouth, Eng.

March 17.—Guysborough, Bangor minesweeper, torpedoed off Bay of Biscay.

Asks "Education" For AWL Draftees

OTTAWA, Oct., Oct. 19.—(CP)—L. R. Beaudoin (L-Vaudreuil-Soulanges) suggested last night in the Commons that efforts be made to educate draftees still being detained for going absent without leave as to what the army stands for and the honor which goes with wearing the King's uniform.

Supporting a resolution ratifying the United Nations Charter, Mr. Beaudoin said he understood that in voting for the resolution "I may be voting for universal peacetime military training and universal compulsory wartime service."

Since Canada then would be embarking on a new manpower policy he suggested the country apply new methods aimed at creating among young men an ambition towards military training and military careers.

"I will refer particularly to men called up for service in this last war who were not given a chance, by force of circumstances, to adopt themselves to army life, went absent without leave, now are being picked up and sentenced to so many months or years of detention.

"I am not advocating that deserters be not punished but, thinking that we might need every fit man sooner than we expect, I do suggest that detention rules should aim at the same time at educating these young men as to what the army stands for and what an honor it is to wear His Majesty's uniform."

Barber at Coast Is Found Guilty In Baby's Death

VANCOUVER, Oct. 19.—(CP)—George R. Higginson, 39-year-old Vancouver barber, was found guilty of manslaughter in British Columbia supreme court here last night and remanded to the end of the assizes for sentence.

The 12-man jury deliberated two hours and 15 minutes before returning its verdict.

Higginson originally had been charged with murder in connection with the death in a downtown rooming house here last Aug. 30 of a four-month-old baby boy.

To Probe Escape Aussie General From Singapore

CANBERRA, Oct. 19.—(CP)—The escape from Singapore shortly before its fall in 1942 of Lt.-Gen. H. Gordon Bennett, commander of the Australian 8th Division, lost in the defence of the big naval base, is to be investigated by a board of inquiry.

Responding today to surprise expressed throughout Australia by newspapers and political officials, Defence Minister John Beasley said the decision to hold an investigation rested with the commander-in-chief of the Australian forces, Gen. Sir Thomas Blamey, and did not require cabinet approval.

Canadian Students Given Scholarships

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(CP)—Four Canadian students have been awarded fellowships permitting free tuition at the graduate school of the Juilliard School of Music here, Dean Oscar Wagner announced last night. Canadian recipients included: Naomi Civkin, Winnipeg, piano; Dolores Claman, Vancouver, piano.

Charge of Murder Follows Cult Rite

NORTON, Va., Oct. 19.—(AP)—Wise county grand jury returned a true bill yesterday indicting Rev. Harvey O. Kirk, Paul Dotson, Leander Ely and John Wilson on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Mr. Kirk's wife following a rattlesnake bite at a religious cult meeting in Lindsey.

Mrs. Anna Kirk was bitten by the snake the night of Sept. 1, during a snake-handling demonstration of the Faith Healers sect. The following Monday she gave birth to a child, who died shortly afterwards. Mrs. Kirk's death followed.

The indictment charged that the four named brought the rattlesnake to the meeting house and either turned it loose or permitted it to be turned loose in a crowd of people, which resulted in the biting of Mrs. Kirk.

Parcel Regulations Explained in House

OTTAWA, Oct. 19.—(CP)—Postmaster-General Bertrand explained yesterday in the Commons that a variance in parcel postage charges in European countries was the result of different rates charged for handling Canadian mails overseas and the limit on the size of mail packages was set by the countries to which the mail was destined.

He said there had been many queries regarding these matters. Persons wondered, for instance, why only five pounds of mail could be shipped to Britain while 11 pounds could be shipped to The Netherlands.

Britain had set the five-pound limit but had agreed to allow the extra shipping space for larger parcels to the Netherlands where food and clothing were needed.

Mr. Bertrand added: "As regards the parcels for Britain, the present British import regulations besides limiting the weight to five pounds, stipulate that not more than two pounds of any one food be included; gifts may not be sent more often than once a month; dutiable articles are subject to the usual customs charges in Britain; and gifts must be unsolicited and must be clearly marked as 'gifts'. Overweight articles are subject to confiscation in Britain."

Cowboy Killed By Wild Horse At N.Y. Rodeo

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—(AP)—A 27-year-old cowboy was fatally injured by a wild horse before an audience of 15,000 in Madison Square Garden last night.

As several wild horses were released from their chutes for the final event of the evening's rodeo performance, one of them reared, then kicked backwards. His hoofs struck Homer Cook, of Livingston, Mont., full in the chest.

Cook was taken to the first aid room where he was pronounced dead by Dr. Vincent Nardiello. The rodeo audience was unaware of the death.

Men Were Patient

Box Car Wreck Cause Of Troop Train Delay

By E. R. HORTON

An hour's wait in Wainwright and an even longer delay in Kinsella failed to dampen the spirits of the artillery men whose CNR special train had been held up by a derailed freight car about a mile west of the last named village.

Though a few of them were seen walking up and down the tracks beside their train at Kinsella, none ventured far from the coaches, but whiled away the time with cards, with reading the many fiction magazines on the train or in conversations recalling old battles—or in anxious queries about how they were to get to trains and buses to take those men who do not live in Edmonton to their homes.

Though the train was due in Edmonton at 2:30 p.m. it was pot until that time that it edged its way cautiously over the new lengths of track beside the wrecked box car.

All that could be seen of the cause of the delay were scattered wheels, the twisted body of the car itself and piles of ties on both sides of the track.

Two trains, one of them a fruit train, with a high priority and a short passenger train passed the blocked troop special going in the opposite direction before the high ball was given and the soldiers continued the interrupted last lap of their trip.

"Too bad, the folks will be getting nervous about us coming in" shrugged one soldier who himself was not concealing his own anxiety any too well.

PREDICTIONS VOICED

Predictions were freely voiced that it would be dark before the train reached Edmonton and that the crowd would have become tired of waiting and gone home, but most of the soldiers accepted the ill luck with the stoical and philosophical calm of men who have been disappointed before—and expect to be disappointed again.

Many of them confessed that they were experiencing a churned up sensation inside, "just like when you go into action for the first time."

"It sure feels funny, now that we're getting so close—I don't know just how I feel or how I'm going to act," came from one of the seven men who had left Edmonton with the 92nd Battery in December, 1939.

"Maybe they'll cancel the parade" suggested one optimist hopefully, as others inquired about the probable duration of it and how long the speeches would be.

MEN KEPT BUSY

Those not occupied in cards were either staring out of train windows feasting their eyes on the northern Alberta parklands the train was sweeping through or were still putting finishing touches to equipment and shoes which already glistened.

Assured that Thursday was not a meatless day, one gunner with a hungry look in his eye promised himself a great big steak with onions, just as soon as he can get away from the parade.

However, all the men were satisfied that they have had a wonderful trip and the officers and NCO's who have been accompanying troop trains across Canada ever since repatriations started, claim they have never seen men in a better train. All but one coach was a standard sleeper—and instead of having their meals served from a commissary car, the men paraded in groups to one of the two diners on the train.

Conditions on the aircraft carrier Puncher in which they had crossed the Atlantic were also worthy of commendation, both men and officers asserted.

TRAPS WIL CATTLE

SUVA, Fiji.—(C.P.)—A planter in the Island of Taveuni (Fiji) has been successful in trapping wild cattle which inhabit the rugged central area and which have bred for many years without control. Although some of the beef produced was not of high quality, it commanded a ready market in Suva.

Vets' Problems Are Considered By Association

A general meeting of the Canadian Universities Returned Men's Association was held Tuesday in the medical building. O. F. Thomas and A. A. Aldridge were present as DVA councillors for the department of veterans' affairs.

function of the Curma loan fund which provides financial assistance in times of emergency.

Claude May secretary of CURMA read and explained the constitution of the returned men's organization.

HOUSING BUREAU

Philip LeSceller announced that a housing bureau whose members are M. B. McKenzie, E. V. Elford and A. W. Poushinsky had been set up to aid the veteran in finding living accommodation at reasonable rents.

Lt.-Col. E. H. Strickland stated that eight more Dawson Creek suites are ready for student-veterans.

However, the situation is now critical with some 200 men still requiring immediate housing. Of this number, 80 whose wives and families are living apart from them until some kind of accommodation is available, have been housed temporarily in the Varsity rink on the understanding that Dawson huts would soon be available. Owing to the shortage of materials this hope cannot be realized for some time.

The time is approaching when the men will be evicted from the rink in order that ice can be made. Several are contemplating leaving university as a last resort because of the perpetual worry conflicting with their studies, and the financial impossibility of supporting themselves here, and their wives and families in some other part of the province.

APPEAL BEING MADE

An appeal is being made to all university students and the people of Edmonton to look out for some kind of accommodation for these men and their families and to contact immediately the CURMA if they hear of available accommodation. This may be done by phoning the university switchboard 22131 and asking for CURMA.

City Motorist Receives Gift Of Groceries

Some Edmonton motorist was the recipient of an unexpected supply of groceries and clothing, through a mistake made by the purchaser of the goods, Mrs. Ozubko of 10911 97 street. Mrs. Ozubko told police that she had purchased the articles Thursday afternoon, placed them in a box and then put the box in what she thought was her own car. When she returned to the parking area a few minutes later, the car was gone. So were the groceries. Her own car was parked where she left it earlier in the day.

Record-Playing Device Is Stolen

A musically-minded thief Thursday morning cost Mrs. George J. Henry, of 10150 114 street, a record-player attachment for her radio, according to police reports Friday.

Mrs. Henry told police that on Wednesday she telephoned a radio repair firm with regard to her record-player, which was not working. Friday morning a man aged about 30 years, called at the house, told her he was from the repair firm, and picked up the instrument, telling her he would telephone her later about its repair needs.

Friday afternoon a second man called, saying he was from the repair shop. The second man said the first man was not connected with the radio store in any way.

So, Mrs. Henry is apparently out one record player.
